Recess, Beginning Monday, Called In New Orleans Crisis

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A school recess for a week, starting Monday, today promised a breathing spell for New Orleans in the bitter battle over integration.

The recess was announced late Thursday night by Dr. James F. Redmond, public school superintendent. It will permit teachers to attend teacher association meetings in Baton Rouge Monday through Wednesday. Pupils will observe Thanksgiving holidays Thursday and Friday and classes will not resume until Nov. 28.

The New Orleans School Board Thursday asked suspension of a federal court order directing school integration and a hearing on the motion was set for 10 a.m. today before a three-judge panel.

The suspension plea was filed after four days of tension over admission last Monday of four small Negro girls to two white schools. Unruly demonstrations, sporadic violence and an almost complete boycott by white students of two schools involved.

U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright who signed the integration order, has overriden several moves by the legislature to halt racial mixing.

The three-judge panel which includes Wright, also is expected to hear two other cases involving New Orleans schools.

One is Wright's order restraining the legislature and top state officials from interfering with the integration move. The other is a contempt citation Wright issued against Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education.

May Primaries Due In 8 Cities, Villages

Still clearing away details of the Nov. 8 general election, the Columbiana County Election Board already has started preparations for the primaries next May 2 in 4 cities and 4 major villages.

Nomination for municipal officials is scheduled in East Liverpool, East Palestine, Wellsville and Salem—the four cities—and Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon and Salineville, the four larger villages.

Wednesday, Feb. 1, will be the filing deadline for the city and village primaries, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board, explained.

Townships, school districts and the 5 villages of less than 2,000 population will elect their officials on non-partisan ballots in the 1961 general election, skipping the primaries.

The filing deadline for candidates in the townships, school boards and smaller villages will be Aug. 9—90 days before the election. However, the nominating petition forms which the candidates are required to file have not been approved yet and will not be available for some time, O'Hanlon emphasized.

The smaller villages are Hanoverton, New Waterford, Rogers, Washingtonville and Summitville.

The May 2 nominees of the cities and major villages will advance to the Nov. 7 general election.

At least two members will be named for every school board. In some instances, three will be elected.

Auditor Cites City Fund Problems In Levy Defeat

In the wake of the third rejection of a proposed municipal income tax, Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate called today for a reappraisal of the city's financial structure, starting from the premise that the public is not in the mood to authorize any large amount of new outlay for local government.

Applegate asserted that his experience has shown the public realizes there is a price tag on good education, capital improvements and "good house keeping" in municipal services. But when the public is unwilling to foot the bill the local government has no choice except to revise its planning and ultimately cut back the services it provides, he said.

Applegate added he feels every public official has a duty of educating the public on the operation of the local governmnt and its aims.

"I am not rehashing the loss of revenue we might have had or asking the public to share our troubles," the auditor said. "I am asking them to understand our problems."

Applegate said the street department probably faces the biggest fund problem as the end of the year nears. But he said the situation cannot be appraised exactly because additional money is expected in state settlements for gasoline tax before the end of the year, although the amount cannot be known in advance.

The street department operates principally with a share of gasoline tax and auto license revenues returned by the state.

But 1960's financial problem is mild, compared with the fiscal problem that will confront the city in 1961. Officials already have been notified by County Auditor Kenneth Bell to look for an $86,000 decline in general fund revenue next year.

"Financial planning is like jazz music," Applegate commented. "Neither is ever performed exactly as it is written."

But a financial plan cannot be static; it must be reviewed periodically in the light of changing conditions, he added.

"Any financial plan has value only to the extent that it is acceptable to those who will try to make it work, but also to those who must tolerate it in order to let it function," the auditor said.

Five basic factors must be considered, he said: The level of family income; the stability of property values; the degree of employment; the adequacy and stability of retail and wholesale business, and the number of local industries and their operating levels.

"Willingness to pay for support of government is not so much an economic condition as a social problem," Applegate said.

Ordered U.S. Ships, Planes To Shield 2 Caribbean Nations

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The White House brushed aside today denunciations from the Soviet Union and Cuba against President Eisenhower's action in ordering U.S. warships and planes to shield Guatemala and Nicaragua from any Communist-led attack.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty labeled Moscow's protests the kind of "Communist-type reaction" that could be expected.

"There's a very similar reaction—the words are almost the same—from Cuba," he told a news conference.

Eisenhower decided to end his Augusta vacation Wednesday after two weeks golfing and relaxing in the Georgia sun.

Hagerty said Eisenhower would spend his final Thanksgiving as president in the White House.

Mrs. Eisenhower arranged to leave Augusta today to return to Washington.

Eisenhower's move in rushing warships into the Caribbean served notice the United States will use military force to back up diplomatic protests, if need be, to stop Cuba's Fidel Castro from subverting anti-Communist countries in the Caribbean.

Eisenhower's emergency action foreshadowed similar American military help for any other Caribbean nation which might request it.

Top officials said movement of four U.S. destroyers and an aircraft carrier into the area was a blunt warning to Castro that he will not be permitted to export his leftwing revolution to other Latin-American nations.

They acknowledge that the President's action carried a step further the existing policy of opposing by words what are regarded as Castro's pro-Communist maneuvers.

They compared it to warships of the 7th Fleet patrolling the waters around Formosa to discourage any Chinese Communist attack.

Sets Screen For Attack, Press Cries

Ike Orders Planes, Ships To Caribbean On Bid Of 2 Nations

HAVANA (AP) — The government-controlled press here and Soviet news outlets charged in rather similar terms today that U.S. Navy patrols in the Caribbean are an intervention in Latin-American affairs, a threat to world peace and a smokescreen for attacking Cuba.

President Eisenhower Thursday ordered U.S. warships and planes to be ready to seek out and prevent Communist-led attacks from abroad on Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Three Cuban newspapers carried a story by the Soviet news agency Tass warning of invasion plots against Cuba being prepared in Nicaragua and Guatemala.

A Moscow radio broadcast recorded in London asserted te U.S. Navy alert is "fraught with the danger of a military conflict." The broadcast, noting the White House statement that the move was requested by the Guatemalan and Nicaraguan governments, said: "The rotten antipopular regimes of these two countries can exist only with U.S. support."

The semiofficial newspaper Revolucion in Havana ran a huge banner headline saying "U.S. endangers world peace: Yankee military occupation of Central America could be step toward attacking Cuba."

El Mundo's banner said "U.S. intervenes in internal struggles in Guatemala and Nicaragua."

The President acted on the written request of the two governments, targets in the past week of unsuccessful uprisings which they charged were assisted by Cubans.

The action came as plots and possible uprisings were reported in two other countries, Bolivia and El Salvador.

The U.S. State Department said warships, including at least four destroyers and the aircraft carrier Shangri-La, were already patrolling the high seas between Cuba and the Central American coast. The department said, however, that any action against invasion forces would be limited to the three-mile territorial waters of Guatemala and Nicaragua.

The reaction of Cuban officials and the government-controlled press and radio was indignant.

The newspaper La Calle said the President's action was an intervention in Guatemala and Nicaragua and a grave threat to world peace.

Pastorita Nunez, a high ranking Cuban official as head of the government savings and housing institute, said in a television program that the uprisings in Central America, were a smokescreen to hide plans for an invasion of Cuba.

For weeks Castro officials have been charging that "mercenaries" were being assembled and drilled in Central American countries for a U.S.-financed invasion of Cuba.

Kennedy Due Top Briefing On Caribbean

With American warships and planes patrolling the area on orders from President Eisenhower, Kennedy requested a full report on the operation and its background from CIA Director Allen W. Dulles.

They got together at 9:25 a.m. EST for a scheduled two-hour conference at the Atlantic shore home of the president-elect's parents. The advance word was that neither Kennedy nor Dulles would have any public statement on the substance of the briefing.

The session was put on the Kennedy schedule three days ago—about 48 hours in advance of Eisenhower's order to U. S. naval units to defend revolt-threatened Guatemala and Nicaragua against any Communist-led attack.

After the Eisenhower order—issued at the request of Guatemala and Nicaragua—the president-elect was reported to be expecting a detailed briefing from Dulles on the background which brought on the President's action. Kennedy declined comment on the action.

Kennedy returned to Palm Beach late Thursday night after a round of conferences—and several hours of successful deer hunting—with Lyndon B. Johnson, the vice president-elect.

GOP Doubts Vote Recount As Suggested

Leaders Do Not Plan To Challenge Results Of Nov. 8 Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders in most of the 11 states where a vote recount was suggested do not plan to challenge the Nov. 8 election results.

When GOP National Chairman Thruston B. Morton proposed the recounts a week ago, he told Republican officials in 11 states to look into "purported vote frauds." He urged investigation and whatever follow-up action was indicated.

A check today with GOP leaders in the states listed by Morton showed:

No recounts are planned in Michigan, South Carolina, Illinois, New Mexico, New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Delaware. Party officials in Nevada and Missouri were awaiting official state canvasses before making a decision. That was also the situation in Minnesota, but any recount move there appeared doubtful. Texas GOP leaders have said they were considering a recount bid, but have taken no action.

Reported voting irregularities were being checked in some of the states.

The reaction of the state leaders came as John F. Kennedy's victory margin was cut further by late counts—making it almost certain that he would end up with less than a majority of all the votes cast.

With 1,549 precincts still out and many absentee ballots still to be counted, Kennedy had 33,869,208 votes to 33,684,561 for Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon. This gave Kennedy a lead of only 184,647 out of more than 67½ million votes.

Hundreds of thousands of votes for unpledged presidential electors and minor party candidates will cut further Kennedy's percentage of the national popular vote. Most states will not report votes for splinter parties until the official canvass. The last of these returns will not be in until next month.

Even if Kennedy winds up with less than a majority, he will of course still be the winner—barring an unexpected upset in the electoral vote lineup. His 300 electoral votes are 31 more than the 269 needed for election.

Pottery Local Granted Raise At Coast Plant

A contract settlement in California, a strike in a Connecticut plant, pending negotiations with chinaware manufacturers next week in Cleveland and no break in stalemated contract talks with generalware plants marked activities of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters this week.

The union reported its local 307 has signed a new agreement with the Western Pottery, Co., Inc., at Hollydale, Calif., that grants a "package" amounting to a 10-cent hourly pay boost.

At the same time, a strike is in its third week against the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Co. plant in Plainfield, Conn., the IBOP said. Local 301 called the strike after 30 days of negotiations were climaxed by a "final offer" from the company that "fell far short of expectations," the union said.

Meanwhile, the Brotherhood said it is ready to open contract negotiations in Cleveland Monday with 6 chinaware concerns.

The present contract, signed in May 1959, expires on Nov. 30. The concerns are: Sterling China Co.

Contract Let For Retaining Wall Project

Chester Council Acts After Assurance Of Water Protection

Chester Council Thursday night approved a contract with Hatcher Brothers Co. of Mingo Junction for construction of an intake wall at the pump station after receiving assurances of proper safeguards for the maintenance of water service.

The $15,295 contract was signed with the Ohio firm after an engineer from the U. S. Army Corp of Engineers and officials of the company said adequate protection would be given the sealed river well pump at the upper station.

The wall will protect the intake system when the Ohio River pool level rises after completion of the Stratton Super-dam.

Council Wednesday night delayed action on Hatcher's bid — lowest of three received and already approved by the Army Engineers — because consultation with the Army was asked by Councilman Donald Hissam.

Steubenville Man, 58, Kidnaped And Robbed

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — A pool room operator from Steubenville was kidnapped and robbed of about $161 early today, state police reported.

Officers said Gilbert Stubbs, 58, told them this story:

Stubbs closed his pool room late Thursday night and drove home. As he was getting out of his car, a Negro put a gun in his back, took his money and ordered him back in the auto.

With Stubbs at the wheel, the pair drove toward Washington, Pa. Just outside the city limits, the kidnaper ordered Stubbs to get out. Then he slid over behind the wheel and drove off. Stubbs was unharmed.

Police said the kidnaper headed west on Route 31.

Steubenville Man, 58, Kidnaped And Robbed

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — A pool room operator from Steubenville was kidnapped and robbed of about $161 early today, state police reported.

Officers said Gilbert Stubbs, 58, told them this story:

Stubbs closed his pool room late Thursday night and drove home. As he was getting out of his car, a Negro put a gun in his back, took his money and ordered him back in the auto.

With Stubbs at the wheel, the pair drove toward Washington, Pa. Just outside the city limits, the kidnaper ordered Stubbs to get out. Then he slid over behind the wheel and drove off. Stubbs was unharmed.

Police said the kidnaper headed west on Route 31.

Pomeroy Promises Fight

Japanese To Make Ware For China Plants In U.S.

Battle lines are forming today for the American pottery industry's newest fight against imports following a charge by William T. Pomeroy, president of the Sterling China Co. at Wellsville, that Japanese concerns have contracted to make hotel and restaurant ware with the backstamp of well-known domestic concerns for distribution in the U. S.

Pomeroy leveled the charge in a letter distributed to all employes of the Wellsville plant, promising a fight by his company individually and by affected U. S. chinaware producers as a group.

He pointed out that Japanese pottery producers never before have attempted to take a share of the U. S. hotel and restaurant china business, concentrating on the market for household ware, instead.

But now, he charged, some U. S. concerns have made agreements with the Japanese Pottery Exporters Association to make ware under the domestic concerns' name for distribution in this country.

The Japanese have contracted with the Iroquois China Co. of Syracuse, N. Y., to produce 250,000 dozens of restaurant china annually to be marketed in the U. S. under the Iroquois name, Pomeroy charged.

The Shenango China Co. at New Castle has made a deal with another Japanese pottery to manufacture "a large quantity" of ware under the Shenango name for export to the U. S., Pomeroy added.

He pointed out that neither Iroquois nor Shenango has an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Pomeroy asserted that another chinaware plant in Pennsylvania is reported considering "the same sort of move" — to have ware made in Japan with its backstamp.

$300,000 Loss Estimated In Jefferson Fire

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Fire wiped out a quarter of the business section in this Ashtabula County seat Thursday, with the loss estimated at $300,000.

Ten business places were destroyed by the blaze, which also cut off electric power to 1,800 homes and business establishments for a time.

Crucible Union Endorses Officers

International officers of the United Steelworkers headed by David McDonald were endorsed for re-election at the meeting of Local 1212 Thursday night in the Union Hall in Midland.

The local also endorsed Kay Kluz of Ambridge for director of District 20, which includes Midland. Kluz has been acting director since the death of Bert Hough.

The balloting for the intenational officers was unanimous, the union said.

Kluz won over Nick Mamula of Aliquippa, one of the union's "dues rebel" leaders, by a vote of 473-3, James Mullen of East Liverpool, staff representative, said.

Over 475 attended the meeting for the local, which covers employes of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Joseph D'Alesio, president, notified members an explanation of the supplemental unemployment benefits program will be presented by representatives from the international office Sunday at 10:30 a. m. on Channel 4, Pittsburgh.

and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, Walker China Co. of Bedford, Buffalo China, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y., Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls and Jackson China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa.

The union made no announcement yesterday in its weekly newspaper, The Potters Herald, on interrupted contract talks with dinnerware producers who are members of the U. S. Potters Association.

The IBOP-USPA contract also expires Nov. 30. Union and management spokesmen met in New York City in October, but broke off without agreement. They met again in Cleveland in early November, but the second session ended in a stalemate. The second meeting was recessed, subject to call by Federal Mediator Clair Willmeth, who entered the talks in Cleveland.

The Hatchers said they would fulfill the requirements of the contract, would clean the well pool but would not have to haul up the well pump.

Smith, whose firm is handling the plans for the project, said Hatcher Brothers is a reputable firm, and had completed many difficult construction problems throughout the area.

Hissam, who said the main concern was that the city's water system would be maintained and protected, said he was satisfied.

Officials of the firm said the project would be started about Dec. 1 and should be completed in 4 or 5 weeks.

Council will meet Dec. 7.

TV Guarantee

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A man convicted of rape asked the Oklahoma Court of Criminal Appeals to reverse his conviction. He said television cameras were forbidden to cover his trial, thus violating his constitutional guarantee of a public hearing.

gree Knights of Columbus, at Youngstown, and was serving as chaplain of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, of East Liverpool.

He leaves three sisters, Miss Sally Mulhearn of Lansford, Mrs. Edward M. Ryan of Amherst, Mass., and Mrs. Rose Moyer of New York City.

Solemn Pontifical Mass will be said Monday at 11 a. m. at the church by the Most Rev. Emmet M. Walsh, D.D., bishop of the Youngstown Diocese.

The Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus will escort the body Sunday afternoon from the rectory to the church, where vespers will be held at 3. Members of the Knights of Columbus and other parishioners will serve as a guard of honor while the body lies in state at the church.

Friends may call at the rectory Saturday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. The body will lie in state at the church Sunday at 4 p. m. up to the time of the Mass on Monday.

Place of burial is undecided, the Dawson Funeral Home said.

Out of respect to Fr. Mulhearn's memory, the Cardinal Mercier Assembly of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus has postponed indefinitely a Communion breakfast which it had scheduled Sunday morning at 10:45 at the Travelers Hotel.

Fr. Mulhearn was an assistant to Fr. Carl Nicolay, pastor, along with Fr. Anthony Esposito.

Born in Monroe County Jan. 5, 1867, she resided in Crestline eight years before coming to Wellsville over 60 years ago.

She was one of the oldest members of the First Methodist Church and belonged to the WSCS. She also was a charter and life member of the auxiliary of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 and was a gold star mother.

Her husband died July 10, 1941.

She is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Elsie Eggner of Chicago; a son, Harry L. Duty of Escondido, Calif., and 7 grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren, and 4 great-great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at the MacLean Funeral Home by the Rev. Arden R. Beck. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday afternoon and evening.

Jesse Fisher

Jesse Fisher, 826 Lisbon St., a retired farmer, died Thursday at 9:05 p. m. at City Hospital after a long illness. He was 83.

He was born in St. Clair Township, son of Benjamin P. Fisher and Margaret Smith Fisher. At one time he operated a bakery on Pennsylvania Ave., from which he retired 35 years ago. He once farmed in St. Clair Township. His wife, Mrs. Effie Fisher, died 26 years ago.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Dawson of Bowling Green; two brothers, Frank M. Fisher and Carl D. Fisher, both of Calcutta, and a sister, Mrs. Robert W. Harker of Newell.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Mrs. Theo Wasson

Mrs. Theo May Wasson, 915 Kent St., died today at 8:20 a. m. in Overlook House in Cleveland, where she had been a patient since Sept. 18. She was 62.

Born in Wellsville May 1, 1898, she was a daughter of the late Sylvanus and Mary Anne Phillips Cornelius.

She resided in East Liverpool since 1941 and worked 15 years as a saleslady for D. M. Ogilvie & Co. She was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist of East Liverpool.

Private services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Ernest Alcock

Ernest Everett (Bill) Alcock, who resided with his sister, Mrs. William Fultz, 214 3rd St., Wellsville, was found dead at the home by members of his family this morning at 8. He had been in ill health for five years. He was 35.

He was born June 14, 1925, in Wellsville, son of Mrs. Selina Byers of Wellsville. He served with the Navy from 1943-1946 in Asiatic-Pacific areas. At one time he was employed by the Sterling China Co. at Wellsville and later worked for a construction company. He lived in Toronto 9 years before moving to Wellsville about 18 months ago.

The MacLean Funeral Home is arranging services.

Japanese To Make Ware For China Plants In U.S.

Battle lines are forming today for the American pottery industry's newest fight against imports following a charge by William T. Pomeroy, president of the Sterling China Co. at Wellsville, that Japanese concerns have contracted to make hotel and restaurant ware with the backstamp of well-known domestic concerns for distribution in the U. S.

Pomeroy leveled the charge in a letter distributed to all employes of the Wellsville plant, promising a fight by his company individually and by affected U. S. chinaware producers as a group.

He pointed out that Japanese pottery producers never before have attempted to take a share of the U. S. hotel and restaurant china business, concentrating on the market for household ware, instead.

But now, he charged, some U. S. concerns have made agreements with the Japanese Pottery Exporters Association to make ware under the domestic concerns' name for distribution in this country.

The Japanese have contracted with the Iroquois China Co. of Syracuse, N. Y., to produce 250,000 dozens of restaurant china annually to be marketed in the U. S. under the Iroquois name, Pomeroy charged.

The Shenango China Co. at New Castle has made a deal with another Japanese pottery to manufacture "a large quantity" of ware under the Shenango name for export to the U. S., Pomeroy added.

He pointed out that neither Iroquois nor Shenango has an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Pomeroy asserted that another chinaware plant in Pennsylvania is reported considering "the same sort of move" — to have ware made in Japan with its backstamp.

$300,000 Loss Estimated In Jefferson Fire

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Fire wiped out a quarter of the business section in this Ashtabula County seat Thursday, with the loss estimated at $300,000.

Ten business places were destroyed by the blaze, which also cut off electric power to 1,800 homes and business establishments for a time.

Crucible Union Endorses Officers

International officers of the United Steelworkers headed by David McDonald were endorsed for re-election at the meeting of Local 1212 Thursday night in the Union Hall in Midland.

The local also endorsed Kay Kluz of Ambridge for director of District 20, which includes Midland. Kluz has been acting director since the death of Bert Hough.

The balloting for the intenational officers was unanimous, the union said.

Kluz won over Nick Mamula of Aliquippa, one of the union's "dues rebel" leaders, by a vote of 473-3, James Mullen of East Liverpool, staff representative, said.

Over 475 attended the meeting for the local, which covers employes of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Joseph D'Alesio, president, notified members an explanation of the supplemental unemployment benefits program will be presented by representatives from the international office Sunday at 10:30 a. m. on Channel 4, Pittsburgh.

The union made no announcement yesterday in its weekly newspaper, The Potters Herald, on interrupted contract talks with dinnerware producers who are members of the U. S. Potters Association.

The IBOP-USPA contract also expires Nov. 30. Union and management spokesmen met in New York City in October, but broke off without agreement. They met again in Cleveland in early November, but the second session ended in a stalemate. The second meeting was recessed, subject to call by Federal Mediator Clair Willmeth, who entered the talks in Cleveland.

The Hatchers said they would fulfill the requirements of the contract, would clean the well pool but would not have to haul up the well pump.

Smith, whose firm is handling the plans for the project, said Hatcher Brothers is a reputable firm, and had completed many difficult construction problems throughout the area.

Hissam, who said the main concern was that the city's water system would be maintained and protected, said he was satisfied.

Officials of the firm said the project would be started about Dec. 1 and should be completed in 4 or 5 weeks.

Council will meet Dec. 7.

TV Guarantee

He leaves three sisters, Miss Sally Mulhearn of Lansford, Mrs. Edward M. Ryan of Amherst, Mass., and Mrs. Rose Moyer of New York City.

Solemn Pontifical Mass will be said Monday at 11 a. m. at the church by the Most Rev. Emmet M. Walsh, D.D., bishop of the Youngstown Diocese.

The Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus will escort the body Sunday afternoon from the rectory to the church, where vespers will be held at 3. Members of the Knights of Columbus and other parishioners will serve as a guard of honor while the body lies in state at the church.

Friends may call at the rectory Saturday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. The body will lie in state at the church Sunday at 4 p. m. up to the time of the Mass on Monday.

Place of burial is undecided, the Dawson Funeral Home said.

Out of respect to Fr. Mulhearn's memory, the Cardinal Mercier Assembly of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus has postponed indefinitely a Communion breakfast which it had scheduled Sunday morning at 10:45 at the Travelers Hotel.

Fr. Mulhearn was an assistant to Fr. Carl Nicolay, pastor, along with Fr. Anthony Esposito.

Miner Running Out Of Salt

President Eisenhower's experts have told him the United States can save a billion dollars a year in overseas spending.

This is imperative, they have told him—and everybody else — because the United States is sending gold abroad at a rate that will use up its supply if the drain can't be stopped.

Not only is the government being too openhanded, but the U.S. economy has been buying more abroad than it has been offsetting with sales to foreign countries.

This is not easy for ordinary people who have no dealings with international trade to understand. Especially hard to understand is manipulation of the world's gold supply—the gold standard that ultimately determines the actual value of the pieces of paper which change hands in monetary transactions.

There is a threadbare but useful wisecrack about the gold standard — that only three men on earth understand it and they can't agree. But it's only the theory of the gold standard that causes the confusion. The practice is obvious.

The drain on U.S. gold reserves to pay the difference between U.S. outgo abroad and U.S. income from foreign sources isn't a theory. It's a condition.

EVERY TIME the family of an American citizen stationed overseas pays for the services of a German housemaid, there is a net drain on the U.S. gold reserve. Therefore, the families of thousands of Americans stationed abroad are going to be brought home.

Every time the purchasing agent of a PX overseas buys foreign goods for sale to PX customers at cost, the United States loses. That will be discouraged. So will foreign purchases by other American agencies.

Agricultural surpluses will not be dumped so promiscuously. All along the line there will be a gradual drying up of the drainage of U.S. wealth, because this amounts to a subtraction from U.S. gold reserves.

But the catch to present consternation is that it only reflects belatedly in Washington a consternation that has gnawed at nonexpert taxpayers ever since President Roosevelt told the British they could borrow the "garden hose" to put out the fire when Hitler lit the match that started World War II.

Even before that, there was nonexpert consternation over World War I "loans" that the United States had made to its allies. When the war ended, it even "lent" money to Germany. But in fact the "loans" were gifts and the "lending" was one way, so the net loss was added to the U.S. national debt.

That was a drain on something just as precious as gold — the purchasing power of U.S. dollars. Debt is the source of money devaluation. Debt is inflation.

THE LAST THREE presidents all have insisted that the United States must appropriate huge sums of money each year for foreign aid — both military and economic. They argued that this was the only way to keep wavering nations from joining the Communist Conspiracy.

Objections were overridden by massive rebuttals from experts who explained patiently how the whole thing would work out in the long run for the salvation of the United States and the free world. Finally, no experts began to take their word for it. It was an unpatriotic act to question foreign aid. The free world must be saved.

If sometimes it looked as if Uncle Sam were salting gold mines abroad with gold from his own mine at home, it was better not to say so. Washington had no patience with skeptics who questioned whether all the bread cast upon the waters would be found again.

Well, Washington is now looking for lost bread, and only a rotten spoilsport would think of muttering, "I told you so."

15-100ths Of A Difference

The studied calm being maintained about the possibility that Richard Nixon might be counted into the presidency with or without the help of some unpledged electors from Mississippi barely conceals the tremulous excitement behind the political scenes.

California finally has been counted in for Nixon.

The potential surprise is no longer the vote in precincts that haven't reported; there are only about 1,500 of these left.

THE PLACE TO WATCH now is the big cities where the Democratic organization piles up massive vote totals to swamp the more normal division of voters in small cities and rural precincts. These are the cesspools of election fraud. These are the places where the premium is highest on dirty work at the ballot boxes, phony registrations, multiple voting and doctored totals.

It is not that Democrats are more unscrupulous than Republicans in this regard. It is only that Republicans no longer are kingpins in the great population centers like Chicago.

Actually, no one seems to welcome the possibility of a reversal of what Richard Nixon may have prematurely conceded to be victory for John Kennedy. Certainly nothing said by Nixon since the night of Election Day has sounded wishful. It is as though, having seen what a close thing the election turned out to be, the vice president was well satisfied to let his opponent deal with the consequences.

Beneath the surface, though, Mr. Nixon is still anxious to win. But he is giving no comfort to those who cannot bring themselves to believe that he lost until there has been time for a searching examination of returns. The search now is for fraud. A new realization is spreading through the ranks of Democratic and Republican voters. Vice President Nixon did not lose. John Kennedy did not win. They ran a dead heat, and because only one of them can be president of the United States the Electoral College formula gives the decision to Kennedy.

THUS, THIS ANTIQUATED, never satisfactory device for choosing presidents may have performed a miracle in 1960. It has apparently given the nation a president under circumstances that otherwise would have had to be called a dead heat—an unbreakable tie.

When the difference between presidential candidates in upward of 68 million votes is less than 200,000 — 15-100th of one per cent — there has been no victory and no loss.

We Liked Him

We recall an unknown actor who appeared long ago in a bit part in a movie whose name we've forgotten. He was on the screen only briefly, but in a few flashes he made even a casual viewer aware of a powerful cinematic impact.

That turned out to be Clark Gable. He had cinematic impact. The movie people could analyze it. He made vast amounts of money for them and for himself with it. He never claimed to be an actor, although he was a better actor than he thought he was. He never claimed to be anything special, other than especially lucky.

People liked him. They helped him. He had the grace to respond in kind. In the motion picture colony, they called him "King," which was a way of designating him as their top banana.

We liked him from the first time he stood out in a forgotten movie. We liked him most in "It Happened One Night," which is the one he liked best. His death has put "Finis" on one of the nicest show business success stories we know.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Nixon-Kennedy conference got the Florida vacation season off to a good start publicitywise. But Miami press agents may be disciplined for not getting bathing beauties into the act and asking such questions as "What do you think of Hialeah as a factor in the economic situation?" and "What do you think will be the effect of the new Russian ruble on the electric rabbit?"

There was much talk about using Republicans in the 1961 lineup but no clear indication whether there would be opportunities as bat boys or first-base coaches. There will be a second conference between Dick and Jack.

This may make clear whether Nixon will be allowed to work out with a new squad but without the metal helmet at the plate.

Some questions asked Sen. Kennedy at press conferences are close to silly as for example, "Are you going direct to your helicopter now?" which brought the answer, "Yes, to the airport, from there to the Palm Beach Airport and from there to the house." Why not go on from there?

Q: After you reach the house what do you do?

A: I have not given that much thought, but will probably throw myself into a porch chair.

Q: Have you a special porch chair or will you use whatever is vacant?

A: My porch chair policy is extra liberal.

Q: Where will you go from the porch chair?

A: I am not making any commitment at this time but believe I may take a swim.

Q: Will this be in the pool or ocean, and what about rumors you intend to take a dip in a lake to restore old swimming hole image to political life?

A: The pool and ocean and optional. I do not plan to build up the swimming-hole background, as I won without it.

Q: After you take your Palm Beach swim what will you do next?

Q: What beach?

A: Any beach where there are no correspondents.

MOST COMMON ACCIDENT is reported by Safety Council to be due to lack of a grab-bar in bathtub. Lacking a flashlight in emergency is second and use of old-fashioned can opener which leaves jagged edge on tin cans are close up. You are in real trouble if you reach for a missing grab-bar in tub, grab a can of beer by mistake and find you will have to open it with a bar of soap or Red Cross kit.

Russia announces its ruble will now be worth $1.11. It is now out to veto American money.

O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh" got a four-hour production on TV the other night and early morning. This sort of thing may not only kill pay TV but kill it for FREE.

Just heard of a TV fan who called 48 hours after "The Iceman Cometh" and asked a radio man to fix the set. "What's the matter?" asked the repairman. "I can't get the iceman out of it," he replied, refusing to believe it was his imagination.

The work of rebuilding and renovating the White House during the Truman administration cost $5,761,000, including a steel frame to support the interior and a two-story basement. Before reconstruction began, the living quarters of the White House contained 48 rooms and 14 baths. Now it has 54 rooms and 16 baths.

We Don't Make Sense To Them

Union Chiefs Stake Early Claims

By Victor Riesel

Some 72 hours after the election, Walter Reuther had a disturbing thought. And to Reuther, being disturbed means hitting the phones and airlanes. He did both early in the weekend for he had the feeling that, after the close count, he and the rest of labor might be brushed aside by John F. Kennedy and company — the company being mostly "The South."

Victor Riesel

While all other labor leaders slowly were recovering, Reuther, though a candidate for a marathon sleep fest, telephoned Robert Kennedy. Bob, who has more stamina than a battery of Hoffa lawyers, was quietly helping to transfer the government in Washington while Jack Kennedy kept the world spotlight riveted on Palm Beach.

REUTHER, according to reports, wanted to insure a liberal cast — and caste — to the new administration.

There wasn't any labor leader who had yet seen any Kenndy. This could easily be arranged, was the reported reply. Bob was ready in Washington and how about lunch on Sunday at the house.

Reuther then hit the phones again. He dispatched word to labor's liberal bloc — Alex Rose, now rapidly becoming better known as the latter day Jim Farley, only more so; David Dubinsky, the ebullient but always quick to efface himself, garment union leader and Arthur Goldberg, who will become one of John F. Kennedy's closest advisers on far more than labor.

Reports still coming in on those talks indicate that Reuther was disturbed by news that the Kennedy administration was shifting off-center — to the right.

It was time for labor to assert itself to its campaign ally. The South might take credit, under Lyndon Johnson, for the election and argue that it was really a repudiation of Kennedy's liberal supporters.

SUNDAY MORNING Alex Rose, who had just about set himself to tend his flock of hat workers and Reuther converged on Bob Kennedy. Goldberg and the others were not available.

They had a good lunch but if they ate as fast as they talked, they will have as much difficulty remembering the menu as we mortals have remembering the name of a losing vice presidential candidate.

Bob Kennedy was set for a short holiday — the first in four years really.

Reuther — along with AFL-CIO leader George Meany — was planning to leave for Brussels in two weeks. Their requests were of many kinds and they wanted to stake their claims before they left.

Labor's interests run something like this: They are not too concerned with the secretary of labor spot. They know they'll get a strong friend there. They are interested — especially Mr. Meany —in the posts of secretary of state and the U.N. ambassador.

THEY WANT MEN in those positions who will work with them and the worldwide labor movement. But they talked mostly of the home front — the "bread and butter" jobs.

They, for example, want swift "cleaning" of the National Labor Relations Board which runs elections in plants where workers vote for unions to represent them.

The point out that the NLRB has "bogged" down, though Congress gave it money to function quickly.

They want housing, health, welfare and "depressed area" chiefs friendly to labor. They want a secretary of interior who will be an ally.

There are scores of such spots. Whether they ran through the list or spoke generally or at random with Bob Kennedy, there is no saying.

He assured them he values their advice and they will not be ignored at all. Then the labor leaders flew all the way home — quite satisfied with their mission.

Two-Party Hope

By Raymond Moley

There are many soft-headed people who, after an election, would like to have the two candidates and the members of their parties bury all differences and enter into what would be virtually a conspiracy to govern the country jointly. This dangerous idea is pressed to the point at which the rivals would divide the jobs between them.

Many of the questions by reporters directed to Messrs. Kenney and Nixon after their meeting in Miami concerned whether Nixon would have a job in the Kennedy government and how much bipartisanship could be expected.

The replies of the two men brushed this nonsense aside and revealed them as the sort of leaders the two parties have been needing for nearly 40 years.

They are essentially party men. Both believe in party loyalty and discipline, strong organization and healthful conflict, not only during campaigns but all the time.

KENNEDY SPOKE of this as "within the American tradition." It is more than that. It is in the pattern of the Anglo-American tradition of more than two centuries.

In his farewell address, Washington decried "factions." But while he was speaking, Jefferson was already at work creating an opposition to the Federalists.

Later, the wise and articulate John C. Calhoun gave us the best of all definitions of two-party government:

"The community will be divided into two great parties—a major and a minor, between which there will be incessant struggles on the one side to retain and on the other to obtain the majority—thereby to control the government and the advantages it confers."

Those shallow Americans who do not like that sort of "struggle" to attain or keep a majority should move to the Soviet Union, where there is no party conflict, where the head of the party is in fact the head of the government, where alleged voting offers only one choice and one ideology is supreme—a completely monolithic state without liberty for anyone. For in party struggle is the life blood of our individual freedoms.

Kennedy said this to the press: "The vice president has responsiblities as the leader of his party which would come within the American tradition . . . ."

In answer to the question whether he would give Nixon a job in his administration, he added, "Mr. Nixon has a definite responsibility as leader of his party and I think that perhaps he can answer how he would define that responsibility more satisfactorily than I can."

NIXON DID define that responsibility:

"There will be no differences that we have in these next four years which will be based on personal considerations. They will be based only on differences in principles and policies which we may have.

"I would like to add, too, that as the senator indicated, I have a responsibility as the leader of the opposition at this time and I would like to say that as the leader of the opposition it is my responsibility to see that our opposition is constructive, that we support those policies which we believe are in the best interest of the administration and of the nation as well, whenever the administration advocates such policies but that where the new administration advocates policies that we disagree with, that it is our responsibility vigorously to oppose them. We had such an understanding.

"The senator agrees that that is the proper role of an opposition party and of an opposition leader."

No such clear definition of party leadership by both candidates after an election has been drawn since the days of Bryan and McKinley.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — R. T. Hall was named chairman of the Community Welfare Association.

Chief of Police Hugh J. McDermott issued orders to patrolmen to order out of town any persn found begging on the streets or at private homes.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Two East Liverpool financial institutions were ready to distribute about $148,600 in Christmas Savings funds to 4,525.

Miss Rose McBane of the First United Presbyterian Young People's Christian Union of East Liverpool was elected president of the Steubenville Presbytery organization.

TEN YEARS AGO — A new organ was installed in the Second Christian Church.

The first anniversary of the Colloquium Club was observed at the home of Mrs. Earl Applegate on Oliver St.

Political Sportmanship

By David Lawrence

America Gains From Nixon-Kennedy Meeting

Why did President-elect Kennedy take the initiative and pay a visit to Vice President Nixon? It was a good move, but lots of people are inquiring as to its meaning. Some of the Kennedy staff are pleasantly surprised at the extent of the favorable reaction to the incident.

David Lawrence

Basically, the American people believe in sportsmanship. In an athletic contest the loser and the winner always shake hands afterwards. Quite a hullabaloo was stirred up last summer, for instance, at the Olympic Games in Rome when a Russian athlete, preoccupied after a gruelling race, happened to ignore the victor. When he inquired and was told what the boos were about, he hastily congratulated the winner.

There was something else besides good sportsmanship in the Nixon-Kennedy meeting after the election. It showed the rest of the world, of course, that in America there can be a spirited campaign and yet the two contenders can be friends afterwards.

The underlying reason, however, for the meeting was political in its broadest and best sense. The country revealed a sharp division in the election. The race was close—in fact, closer than either candidate really expected.

There is nothing more important after such a contest than to promote good will on both sides. It is naturally Mr. Kennedy's concern more than it is Mr. Nixon's but each has much to gain from such a manifestation of good will.

MR. KENNEDY, first of all, wants to reassure conservatives that he isn't as haywire on economic policies as the Democratic platform adopted at Los Angeles might imply. He would like to keep the fires of opposition from starting too soon—at least until he has a chance to express his viewpoint on major policies.

He doesn't, moreover, want the country's businessmen to slow up their planning or feel they have to wait for months to find out which way the new administration will turn—to the left or the right or to the middle way.

So far as foreign policy is concerned, this is where the least change is likely to occur.

Broad and sweeping phrases about "bold and imaginative ideas" have been bandied about for the last several years by speakers on the Democratic side, especially in the so-called liberal group but the time will come—and it is just a few weeks off—when some of these ideas will have to stand the test of practicality, the substitution of action for broad phrases and the announcement of definite policy to fulfill the abstract slogans of the campaign.

President-elect Kennedy has a somewhat conservative background but he has always had some of the same type of egghead advisers that Franklin Roosevelt had in his famous "Brain Trust."

WHILE THERE IS a tendency to make comparisons already with FDR and to talk of a "100 days" of action, the parallel really is more theoretical than real.

There is no such crisis today in the economic life of the country as was present in 1933.

When Mr. Roosevelt took office, he faced a closing of all the banks and the problem of 12 million unemployed. He himself had made matters worse by refusing to cooperate with President Hoover in the pre-inauguration period.

The then President-elect shunned a personal meeting with the President and gave the impression that he feared to become involved in any action that might make him responsible for a further decline of the economic situation.

It was bad judgment. Rumors of a program to devalue gold were in the air, and Mr. Roosevelt, who knew little about such things himself, depended on impractical advisers.

Mr. Kennedy is not likely to make such mistakes. He knows a good deal about Washington, as he has been immersed for 14 years in federal affairs, whereas FDR came directly from the governorship of New York.

While he had some experience in the Navy Department as assistant secretary, he wasn't at all familiar with economic or international policy problems that were before him in 1933.

He made the grave error in the summer of 1933 of dissolving the International Economic Conference at London, which, if properly developed, might have built up the deterrent strength of our allies and enabled them to avert World War II.

MR. NIXON has already indicated he will help the president-elect in any way he can but political history tells us that the vice president will maintain an independent course and begin quietly to prepare for the 1964 presidential contest.

The Republican standard bearer showed a grace and good will toward his opponent which won him friends even among those persons who didn't vote for him. His final speech of the campaign was a masterpiece of non-partisanship. He is a more potent figure in national politics today than any other Republican.

He may be expected to carry on a dignified and constructive opposition during the next four years—which is as it should be—and this is something which is fully understood abroad where they call it the loyal opposition.

America, therefore, has gotten a plus out of the Nixon-Kennedy meeting.

Tentative Conclusion

By James D. White

SAN FRANCISCO

It is now possible to reach a tentative conclusion about the real nature of the much talked of split between Peiping and Moscow over the question of peaceful coexistence.

In a word, coexistence is not the central issue. The real argument—never admitted—seems to be over Red China's determination to take Formosa.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has been proclaiming that the great imperialist war with the West predicted by Lenin is not inevitable. The Communist world is now strong enough to deter Western imperialists from waging such a war, and has more to gain through peaceful coexistence - permitting economic and political penetration—than it would through a nuclear war where it too would be left in ruins, the Soviet boss argued.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of Red China has replied that Lenin was right and that anyone who says differently is guilty of being soft on Western imperialism. Behind Mao's obvious defiance of Moscow lay a whole series of statements by Red Chinese leaders to this general effect:

With 650 million people Red China is best suited of all the powers to survive a global nuclear holocaust. She could lose almost half her people and still be the most populous nation on earth —and the strongest on an earth where all modern industrial nations lay in radiation-poisoned ruins.

But neither Moscow nor Peiping acknowledges that these deeply antagonistic attitudes amount to a disagreement.

Since 1957, when the first signs of a split appeared, the world has wondered what it really meant.

The answer seems to be that coexistence certainly is involved, but that the big, underlying issue is Formosa.

Peiping claims Formosa as a province of China and Moscow fully supports this claim.

But the tipoff comes from Felix Greene, a British businessman who lives in Palo Alto, Calif., and who recently returned from 4½ months in Red China.

Greene reports he found the Chou En-lai—absolutely inflexible on the question of Formosa. Greene recorded for television a 30-minute interview with Chou.

The Englishman, a journalist as well as a businessman, said this was a part of a much more hard-boiled attitude in Peiping than he had found on his first visit three years ago.

He told a radio panel that the Chinese Reds will insist upon settling the Formosa question on their terms before even considering taking the Chinese seat in the United Nations. They are aware that a U.N. trusteeship for Formosa has been discussed, and they want no part of it.

Green asserts the Red Chinese won't talk on anything else with the United States until American forces withdraw from Formosa—leaving it open to conquest.

Here is where coexistence enters the picture. Moscow is obligated by the Sino-Soviet Treaty of 1950 to come to Red China's aid in the event of "hostilities from the direction of Japan," meaning America. The United States is committed to the defense of Formosa through its treaty with Nationalist China.

Coexistence with the West would go out the window if Peiping attacked Formosa. In all probability World War III would be on.

If Greene is right, there is little chance for an American "Two China Policy" as suggested by Chester A. Bowles, a foreign policy adviser to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Miner Running Out Of Salt

President Eisenhower's experts have told him the United States can save a billion dollars a year in overseas spending.

This is imperative, they have told him—and everybody else — because the United States is sending gold abroad at a rate that will use up its supply if the drain can't be stopped.

Not only is the government being too open-handed, but the U.S. economy has been buying more abroad than it has been offsetting with sales to foreign countries.

This is not easy for ordinary people who have no dealings with international trade to understand. Especially hard to understand is manipulation of the world's gold supply—the gold standard that ultimately determines the actual value of the pieces of paper which change hands in monetary transactions.

There is a threadbare but useful wisecrack about the gold standard — that only three men on earth understand it and they can't agree. But it's only the theory of the gold standard that causes the confusion. The practice is obvious.

The drain on U.S. gold reserves to pay the difference between U.S. outgo abroad and U.S. income from foreign sources isn't a theory. It's a condition.

EVERY TIME the family of an American citizen stationed overseas pays for the services of a German housemaid, there is a net drain on the U.S. gold reserve. Therefore, the families of thousands of Americans stationed abroad are going to be brought home.

Every time the purchasing agent of a PX overseas buys foreign goods for sale to PX customers at cost, the United States loses. That will be discouraged. So will foreign purchases by other American agencies.

Agricultural surpluses will not be dumped so promiscuously. All along the line there will be a gradual drying up of the drainage of U.S. wealth, because this amounts to a subtraction from U.S. gold reserves.

But the catch to present consternation is that it only reflects belatedly in Washington a consternation that has gnawed at nonexpert taxpayers ever since President Roosevelt told the British they could borrow the "garden hose" to put out the fire when Hitler lit the match that started World War II.

Even before that, there was nonexpert consternation over World War I "loans" that the United States had made to its allies. When the war ended, it even "lent" money to Germany. But in fact the "loans" were gifts and the "lending" was one way, so the net loss was added to the U.S. national debt.

That was a drain on something just as precious as gold — the purchasing power of U.S. dollars. Debt is the source of money devaluation. Debt is inflation.

THE LAST THREE presidents all have insisted that the United States must appropriate huge sums of money each year for foreign aid — both military and economic. They argued that this was the only way to keep wavering nations from joining the Communist Conspiracy.

Objections were overridden by massive rebuttals from experts who explained patiently how the whole thing would work out in the long run for the salvation of the United States and the free world. Finally, no experts began to take their word for it. It was an unpatriotic act to question foreign aid. The free world must be saved.

If sometimes it looked as if Uncle Sam were salting gold mines abroad with gold from his own mine at home, it was better not to say so. Washington had no patience with skeptics who questioned whether all the bread cast upon the waters would be found again.

Well, Washington is now looking for lost bread, and only a rotten spoilsport would think of muttering, "I told you so."

15-100ths Of A Difference

The studied calm being maintained about the possibility that Richard Nixon might be counted into the presidency with or without the help of some unpledged electors from Mississippi barely conceals the tremulous excitement behind the political scenes.

California finally has been counted in for Nixon.

The potential surprise is no longer the vote in precincts that haven't reported; there are only about 1,500 of these left.

THE PLACE TO WATCH now is the big cities where the Democratic organization piles up massive vote totals to swamp the more normal division of voters in small cities and rural precincts. These are the cesspools of election fraud. These are the places where the premium is highest on dirty work at the ballot boxes, phony registrations, multiple voting and doctored totals.

It is not that Democrats are more unscrupulous than Republicans in this regard. It is only that Republicans no longer are kingpins in the great population centers like Chicago.

Actually, no one seems to welcome the possibility of a reversal of what Richard Nixon may have prematurely conceded to be victory for John Kennedy. Certainly nothing said by Nixon since the night of Election Day has sounded wishful. It is as though, having seen what a close thing the election turned out to be, the vice president was well satisfied to let his opponent deal with the consequences.

Beneath the surface, though, Mr. Nixon is still anxious to win. But he is giving no comfort to those who cannot bring themselves to believe that he lost until there has been time for a searching examination of returns. The search now is for fraud. A new realization is spreading through the ranks of Democratic and Republican voters. Vice President Nixon did not lose. John Kennedy did not win. They ran a dead heat, and because only one of them can be president of the United States the Electoral College formula gives the decision to Kennedy.

THUS, THIS ANTIQUATED, never satisfactory device for choosing presidents may have performed a miracle in 1960. It has apparently given the nation a president under circumstances that otherwise would have had to be called a dead heat—an unbreakable tie.

When the difference between presidential candidates in upward of 68 million votes is less than 200,000 — 15-100th of one per cent — there has been no victory and no loss.

We Liked Him

We recall an unknown actor who appeared long ago in a bit part in a movie whose name we've forgotten. He was on the screen only briefly, but in a few flashes he made even a casual viewer aware of a powerful cinematic impact.

That turned out to be Clark Gable. He had cinematic impact. The movie people could analyze it. He made vast amounts of money for them and for himself with it. He never claimed to be an actor, although he was a better actor than he thought he was. He never claimed to be anything special, other than especially lucky.

People liked him. They helped him. He had the grace to respond in kind. In the motion picture colony, they called him "King," which was a way of designating him as their top banana.

We liked him from the first time he stood out in a forgotten movie. We liked him most in "It Happened One Night," which is the one he liked best. His death has put "Finis" on one of the nicest show business success stories we know.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Nixon-Kennedy conference got the Florida vacation season off to a good start publicitywise. But Miami press agents may be disciplined for not getting bathing beauties into the act and asking such questions as "What do you think of Hialeah as a factor in the economic situation?" and "What do you think will be the effect of the new Russian ruble on the electric rabbit?"

There was much talk about using Republicans in the 1961 lineup but no clear indication whether there would be opportunities as bat boys or first-base coaches. There will be a second conference between Dick and Jack.

This may make clear whether Nixon will be allowed to work out with a new squad but without the metal helmet at the plate.

Some questions asked Sen. Kennedy at press conferences are close to silly as for example, "Are you going direct to your helicopter now?" which brought the answer, "Yes, to the airport, from there to the Palm Beach Airport and from there to the house." Why not go on from there?

Q: After you reach the house what do you do?

A: I have not given that much thought, but will probably throw myself into a porch chair.

Q: Have you a special porch chair or will you use whatever is vacant?

A: My porch chair policy is extra liberal.

Q: Where will you go from the porch chair?

A: I am not making any commitment at this time but believe I may take a swim.

Q: Will this be in the pool or ocean, and what about rumors you intend to take a dip in a lake to restore old swimming hole image to political life?

A: The pool and ocean and optional. I do not plan to build up the swimming-hole background, as I won without it.

Q: After you take your Palm Beach swim what will you do next?

Q: What beach?

A: Any beach where there are no correspondents.

MOST COMMON ACCIDENT is reported by Safety Council to be due to lack of a grab-bar in bathtub. Lacking a flashlight in emergency is second and use of old-fashioned can opener which leaves jagged edge on tin cans are close up. You are in real trouble if you reach for a missing grab-bar in tub, grab a can of beer by mistake and find you will have to open it with a bar of soap or Red Cross kit.

Russia announces its ruble will now be worth $1.11. It is now out to veto American money.

O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh" got a four-hour production on TV the other night and early morning. This sort of thing may not only kill pay TV but kill it for FREE.

Just heard of a TV fan who called 48 hours after "The Iceman Cometh" and asked a radio man to fix the set. "What's the matter?" asked the repairman. "I can't get the iceman out of it," he replied, refusing to believe it was his imagination.

The work of rebuilding and renovating the White House during the Truman administration cost $5,761,000, including a steel frame to support the interior and a two-story basement. Before reconstruction began, the living quarters of the White House contained 43 rooms and 14 baths. Now it has 54 rooms and 16 baths.

We Don't Make Sense To Them

Union Chiefs Stake Early Claims

By Victor Riesel

Some 72 hours after the election, Walter Reuther had a disturbing thought. And to Reuther, being disturbed means hitting the phones and airlanes. He did both early in the weekend for he had the feeling that, after the close count, he and the rest of labor might be brushed aside by John F. Kennedy and company — the company being mostly "The South."

Victor Riesel

While all other labor leaders slowly were recovering, Reuther, though a candidate for a marathon sleep fest, telephoned Robert Kennedy. Bob, who has more stamina than a battery of Hoffa lawyers, was quietly helping to transfer the government in Washington while Jack Kennedy kept the world spotlight riveted on Palm Beach.

REUTHER, according to reports, wanted to insure a liberal cast — and caste — to the new administration.

There wasn't any labor leader who had yet seen any Kenndy. This could easily be arranged, was the reported reply. Bob was ready in Washington and how about lunch on Sunday at the house.

Reuther then hit the phones again. He dispatched word to labor's liberal bloc — Alex Rose, now rapidly becoming better known as the latter day Jim Farley, only more so; David Dubinsky, the ebullient but always quick to efface himself, garment union leader and Arthur Goldberg, who will become one of John F. Kennedy's closest advisers on far more than labor.

Reports still coming in on those talks indicate that Reuther was disturbed by news that the Kennedy administration was shifting off-center — to the right.

It was time for labor to assert itself to its campaign ally. The South might take credit, under Lyndon Johnson, for the election and argue that it was really a repudiation of Kennedy's liberal supporters.

SUNDAY MORNING Alex Rose, who had just about set himself to tend his flock of hat workers and Reuther converged on Bob Kennedy. Goldberg and the others were not available.

They had a good lunch but if they ate as fast as they talked, they will have as much difficulty remembering the menu as we mortals have remembering the name of a losing vice presidential candidate.

Bob Kennedy was set for a short holiday — the first in four years really.

Reuther — along with AFL-CIO leader George Meany — was planning to leave for Brussels in two weeks. Their requests were of many kinds and they wanted to stake their claims before they left.

Labor's interests run something like this: They are not too concerned with the secretary of labor spot. They know they'll get a strong friend there. They are interested — especially Mr. Meany —in the posts of secretary of state and the U.N. ambassador.

THEY WANT MEN in those positions who will work with them and the worldwide labor movement. But they talked mostly of the home front — the "bread and butter" jobs.

They, for example, want swift "cleaning" of the National Labor Relations Board which runs elections in plants where workers vote for unions to represent them.

The point out that the NLRB has "bogged" down, though Congress gave it money to function quickly.

They want housing, health, welfare and "depressed area" chiefs friendly to labor. They want a secretary of interior who will be an ally.

There are scores of such spots. Whether they ran through the list or spoke generally or at random with Bob Kennedy, there is no saying.

He assured them he values their advice and they will not be ignored at all. Then the labor leaders flew all the way home — quite satisfied with their mission.

Two-Party Hope

By Raymond Moley

There are many soft-headed people who, after an election, would like to have the two candidates and the members of their parties bury all differences and enter into what would be virtually a conspiracy to govern the country jointly. This dangerous idea is pressed to the point at which the rivals would divide the jobs between them.

Many of the questions by reporters directed to Messrs. Kenney and Nixon after their meeting in Miami concerned whether Nixon would have a job in the Kennedy government and how much bipartisanship could be expected.

The replies of the two men brushed this nonsense aside and revealed them as the sort of leaders the two parties have been needing for nearly 40 years.

They are essentially party men. Both believe in party loyalty and discipline, strong organization and healthful conflict, not only during campaigns but all the time.

KENNEDY SPOKE of this as "within the American tradition." It is more than that. It is in the pattern of the Anglo-American tradition of more than two centuries.

In his farewell address, Washington decried "factions." But while he was speaking, Jefferson was already at work creating an opposition to the Federalists.

Later, the wise and articulate John C. Calhoun gave us the best of all definitions of two-party government:

"The community will be divided into two great parties—a major and a minor, between which there will be incessant struggles on the one side to retain and on the other to obtain the majority—thereby to control the government and the advantages it confers."

Those shallow Americans who do not like that sort of "struggle" to attain or keep a majority should move to the Soviet Union, where there is no party conflict, where the head of the party is in fact the head of the government, where alleged voting offers only one choice and one ideology is supreme—a completely monolithic state without liberty for anyone. For in party struggle is the life blood of our individual freedoms.

Kennedy said this to the press: "The vice president has responsiblities as the leader of his party which would come within the American tradition . . . ."

In answer to the question whether he would give Nixon a job in his administration, he added, "Mr. Nixon has a definite responsibility as leader of his party and I think that perhaps he can answer how he would define that responsibility more satisfactorily than I can."

NIXON DID define that responsibility:

"There will be no differences that we have in these next four years which will be based on personal considerations. They will be based only on differences in principles and policies which we may have.

"I would like to add, too, that as the senator indicated, I have a responsibility as the leader of the opposition at this time and I would like to say that as the leader of the opposition it is my responsibility to see that our opposition is constructive, that we support those policies which we believe are in the best interest of the administration and of the nation as well, whenever the administration advocates such policies but that where the new administration advocates policies that we disagree with, that it is our responsibility vigorously to oppose them. We had such an understanding.

"The senator agrees that that is the proper role of an opposition party and of an opposition leader."

No such clear definition of party leadership by both candidates after an election has been drawn since the days of Bryan and McKinley.

Down Through The Years

Political Sportmanship

By David Lawrence

America Gains From Nixon-Kennedy Meeting

Why did President-elect Kennedy take the initiative and pay a visit to Vice President Nixon? It was a good move, but lots of people are inquiring as to its meaning. Some of the Kennedy staff are pleasantly surprised at the extent of the favorable reaction to the incident.

David Lawrence

Basically, the American people believe in sportsmanship. In an athletic contest the loser and the winner always shake hands afterwards. Quite a hullabaloo was stirred up last summer, for instance, at the Olympic Games in Rome when a Russian athlete, preoccupied after a gruelling race, happened to ignore the victor. When he inquired and was told what the boos were about, he hastily congratulated the winner.

There was something else besides good sportsmanship in the Nixon-Kennedy meeting after the election. It showed the rest of the world, of course, that in America there can be a spirited campaign and yet the two contenders can be friends afterwards.

The underlying reason, however, for the meeting was political in its broadest and best sense. The country revealed a sharp division in the election. The race was close—in fact, closer than either candidate really expected.

There is nothing more important after such a contest than to promote good will on both sides. It is naturally Mr. Kennedy's concern more than it is Mr. Nixon's but each has much to gain from such a manifestation of good will.

MR. KENNEDY, first of all, wants to reassure conservatives that he isn't as haywire on economic policies as the Democratic platform adopted at Los Angeles might imply. He would like to keep the fires of opposition from starting too soon—at least until he has a chance to express his viewpoint on major policies.

He doesn't, moreover, want the country's businessmen to slow up their planning or feel they have to wait for months to find out which way the new administration will turn—to the left or the right or to the middle way.

So far as foreign policy is concerned, this is where the least change is likely to occur.

Broad and sweeping phrases about "bold and imaginative ideas" have been bandied about for the last several years by speakers on the Democratic side, especially in the so-called liberal group but the time will come—and it is just a few weeks off—when some of these ideas will have to stand the test of practicality, the substitution of action for broad phrases and the announcement of definite policy to fulfill the abstract slogans of the campaign.

'Le Jazz Hot'

Kiwanis Club Keeps 'Cool' Via Roy Cooper's Quintet

The Kiwanis Club went "way out" Thursday with an abbreviated modern jazz concert provided by an instrumental quartet and an attractive girl vocalist—or "thrush" as they say in Downbeat.

Roy Cooper, club member and nimble - fingered guitarist, led the invasion from outer space with a capable contingent including Phil Celli, bass; Johnny Celli, pianist; Bud Lane, drums, and Patty Wells, songstress.

The after - luncheon music fare ranged from a bouncy blues version of "Jumpin' With Symphony Sid" to a gentle and richly chorded Cooper solo, "Dinner at 8."

Red - haired Mis Wells — Mrs. Edwina Doerr in private life — was lonesome in "Please Don't Talk About Me," lyrical in "Foggy Day," and lively in "Deed I Do."

Cooper, in discussing modern jazz, pointed out today's music is as far apart from New Orleans' jazz of the early 20th Century as the 1961 cars are from the Stanley Steamer.

"Some people, to enjoy music, must hear a melody which they recognize. I am not finding fault with this, as I realize jazz lovers are definitely a minority," he said.

"However, you may appreciate any music to a greater extent if you listen to the sounds for themselves instead of listening for a familiar tune."

"Jazz is essentially a melodic line," he explained, "conceived by a soloist, which fits a set background of chord progressions which are fed to the soloist by the piano and guitar with the bass keeping the beat and chord pattern, and the drummer accenting and driving the soloist."

The inroads of automation and electronic devices upon the world of the music men of olden days was demonstrated not only by the amplifier on Cooper's guitar, but by a Wurlitzer "sideman," an electronic device which provided changing drum patterns for such tempos as a tango, march, rhumba and others.

Paul Blair, vice president, said the recital apparently pleased all the club members from what he observed by watching their feet.

Meanwhile, back at the businessmen's lunch, it was announced by Blair the club will sponsor a public pancake supper Dec. 10 at Westgate School.

On the committee are Jud English, Norman Nicely, William Porter, Paul Pugh, Bert Wakefield and Al Webber.

Plans are being made for a rummage sale.

A Thanksgiving program is planned for the club's meeting to be held Wednesday next week, John Mostoller reported.

Churchill Has Restless Night, Secretary Says

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winton Churchill had a disturbed night, but his back injury is creating no anxiety, his secretary said today.

In an official bulletin, his secretary said:

"Sir Winston has had a rather disturbed night, but his spinal injury is progressing satisfactorily and is giving no anxiety."

Britain's World War II prime minister, who will be 86 on Nov. 30, broke a small bone in his back when he tripped over a rug in his bedroom Tuesday.

Agricultural Society Elects

LISBON — William Maple, Kensington, funeral director, was elected president of the Columbiana County Agriculture Society at a reorganization meeting Thursday evening at the County Extension Service office. He succeeds Richard Stamp of Butler Township.

Galen Greenisen of Perry Township was elected vice president; Clarence Crosser, secretary, and V. B. Lemley, treasurer, both of Center Township, and P. R. Corey of Fairfield Township, concession secretary, were re-elected.

Others on the board are Stamp, Ben Weingart of Fairfield Township, Clem Laughlin of Wayne Township, Curtis Hively of Unity Township and Walter Johnson of St. Clair Township.

Fair dates selected were Aug. 22-26, subject to approval by the State Fair Commission. Lemley was selected as a delegate to the annual meeting of fair secretaries Jan. 10-12 in Columbus. Greenisen was named alternate.

The board will meet again after the first of the year.

Indices Jump At Opening Of Final Quarter

Off to a strong start on the last quarter of the year, 10 East Liverpool business and industrial indices registered gains in October, compared with their September levels. The five others showed declines.

The monthly summary of conditions issued today by the Chamber of Commerce showed gains in October for bank debits, postal and sales tax receipts, industrial employment, railroad carloadings, used car sales and parking meter receipts, along with a decline in the city's relief case load.

The report also showed that 10 of the indices attained higher levels in the first 10 months of 1960 than they registered at the same time during 1959. Five others were down.

Sales tax receipts, a barometer of retail sales and the auto business, showed a spectacular 36 per cent gain last month. The collections rose from $36,599 in September to $49,840 in October. They stand at $446,311 for the first 10 months of 1960, off 14.6 per cent from the $522,736 shown at the same time in 1959.

Employment in 11 district industrial plants totaled 4,038 last month, up 1.6 per cent from the 3,973 shown in September. The payrolls at the 11 plants averaged 3,895 monthly to date in 1960, off 4.6 per cent from the 4,081 monthly average maintained in the same period of 1959.

Used car sales totaled 620 last month in Columbiana County, an increase of 12.7 per cent from September's 550. They total 8,643 for the first 10 months of the year, an increase of 5.6 per cent from the 8,166 shown at the same time last year.

The city's relief case load totaled 79 in October, off 1.3 per cent from the 80 registered in September. The case load has averaged 76 monthly to date in 1960, down 15.6 per cent from the monthly average of 90 shown at the same time last year.

The city's parking meter receipts jumped from $3,357 in September to $6,749 in October, a gain of 101 per cent. They total $48,173 for the first 10 months of the year, down 0.08 per cent from the $48,554 shown at the same time in 1959.

Bank debits hit $23,145,917 in October, up 0.08 per cent from September's $22,968,163. They have averaged $22,977,071 monthly to date in 1960, up 4.6 per cent from the $21,958,026 average shown at the same time in 1959.

Postal receipts totaled $22,299 last month, a gain of 26 per cent from the $17,695 shown in September. They stand at $195,198 for the first 10 months of the year, up 2 per cent from the $191,382 shown at the same time in 1959.

Inbound railroad carloadings totaled 226 in October, up 22 per cent from September's 185. They stand at 2,493 to date in 1960, down 20 per cent from the 3,132 shown at the same time in 1959.

Outbound carloadings reached 201 in October, up 47 per cent from the 136 shown in September. They total 2,761 for the first 10 months of 1960, up 5.6 per cent from the 2,614 shown at the same time in 1959.

Bank clearings totaled $3,370,642 in October, off 3 per cent from September's $3,474,687. They stand at $33,667,313 for the first 10 months of the year, off 1.7 per cent from the $33,102,657 shown at the same time in 1959.

Payrolls at 11 area plants totaled $1,242,598 in October, a decline of 4.5 per cent from the $1,301,532 shown in September. The payrolls total $12,141,939 for the first 10 months of 1960, up 7.2 per cent from the $11,321,698 shown at the same time in 1959.

Dam 8 at Newell locked through 315 tows in October, off 3.4 per cent from September's 326. It handled 4,555 tows to date in 1960, up 12.4 per cent from the 4,051 shown in the first 10 months of 1959. The dam has now gone out of operation.

October's river traffic represented 1,075,300 tons of freight, off 4.3 per cent from the 1,123,400 tons shown in September. Tonnage totals 12,480,300 for the first 10 months of 1960, down 6.3 per cent from the 13,324,605 tons shown at the same time last year.

New car registrations in Columbiana County totaled 310 in October, off 0.06 per cent from September's 312. They hit 3,530 for the first 10 months of 1960, up 18.7 per cent from the 2,974 shown at the same time in 1959.

Chester Man Injured By Falling Tree Limb

Thomas Cunningham, 34, of Fairview St., Chester, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a head injury suffered when a limb fell on him as he was cutting a tree Thursday.

Cunningham, admitted yesterday at 12:30 p. m., received a laceration of the head.

Carolyn Pappas, 2½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pappas, 318 Thompson Ave., was treated yesferday for a laceration of the forehead received on a stroller.

BARBERS HONOR COUPLE. Mr. and Mrs. Loren R. Clark, center, were honored Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of Barbers Local 343 at Tice's Restaurant. Clark, now retired, has been a member of the organization 50 years and 1960 also marks the golden wedding anniversary of the couple. Charles Edwards, right, president of the local, is shown placing a 50-year service pin on his lapel while Clarence D. Wright, president of the Ohio State Barbers' Association, hands him a certificate. Demonstrations of new techniques in the barbering trade featured the program. About 75 attended.

Decorations To Be Erected

Midland Chamber Board Airs Yule Parade Plans

Further plans for the annual Christmas parade Nov. 25 in Midland to open the season's holiday shopping were discussed at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon.

The parade will be held at 7 p. m., Mike Hornick, Christmas activities chairman, reported. It will include Santa on a fire truck, the Lincoln High School Band, the Rochester Red Devils' Drum and Bugle Corps, floats of 7 youth organizations competing for $75 in prizes and "Little Tinkle Bell" who will turn on street Christmas lights.

Large, 12-foot painted balloons will be carried by Boy Scouts. Santa will give out treats at the fire station.

Street light decorations will be put up Saturday from 4th to 11th St., Hornick said. There will be large season greeting signs near both ends of the borough.

Letters will be mailed soon to merchants asking funds to help defray expenses of installation of the lights and other events connected with the opening of the Christmas shopping season.

Concerning the house decorations contest, Donald Green said that residents of the Midland area do not need to make applications. He said the only requirement will be that houses have their decorations lighted for 3 nights after Christmas between the hours of 7 to 10. The contest takes in the area around Midland also. Prizes will be given by Midland merchants.

Hornick reported on the zoning ordinance public hearing he attended Wednesday evening, held by the Planning Commission in the Borough Building.

A meeting of service clubs and members of the chamber for Jan. 12 was again discussed. The borough's comprehensive plan will be explained.

Letters were read. One thanked the Chamber for its participation in the Rotary Club's Sample Fair in September and the other was from George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., who said the company will give first consideration to work on welcoming signs for both ends of the borough.

Dr. Thomas S. Boyd, president, appointed a nominating committee to prepare a slate for new officers. The committee includes Paul McGeehan, chairman, Tom Fannin and Charles Finley.

McGeehan said he has contacted the Treadwell Construction Co. for information on its facilities up for sale. The information will be sent the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce in an effort to get another industry in Midland. Since several stores have recently sold out, other firms will be contacted to open stores, it was reported.

Next meeting is Dec. 15.

Firemen's Group Re-Elects Banks

Other officers elected were Robert Jones, vice president; Marty Christen, secretary, and Leo McIntosh, treasurer. Harry Reckner was named a trustee.

The Glenmoor volunteer firemen will hold their election Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the station while the Glenmoor Area Improvement Association will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m.

BARBERS HONOR COUPLE. Mr. and Mrs. Loren R. Clark, center, were honored Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of Barbers Local 343 at Tice's Restaurant. Clark, now retired, has been a member of the organization 50 years and 1960 also marks the golden wedding anniversary of the couple. Charles Edwards, right, president of the local, is shown placing a 50-year service pin on his lapel while Clarence D. Wright, president of the Ohio State Barbers' Association, hands him a certificate. Demonstrations of new techniques in the barbering trade featured the program. About 75 attended.

Decorations To Be Erected

Midland Chamber Board Airs Yule Parade Plans

Further plans for the annual Christmas parade Nov. 25 in Midland to open the season's holiday shopping were discussed at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon.

The parade will be held at 7 p. m., Mike Hornick, Christmas activities chairman, reported. It will include Santa on a fire truck, the Lincoln High School Band, the Rochester Red Devils' Drum and Bugle Corps, floats of 7 youth organizations competing for $75 in prizes and "Little Tinkle Bell" who will turn on street Christmas lights.

Large, 12-foot painted balloons will be carried by Boy Scouts. Santa will give out treats at the fire station.

Street light decorations will be put up Saturday from 4th to 11th St., Hornick said. There will be large season greeting signs near both ends of the borough.

Letters will be mailed soon to merchants asking funds to help defray expenses of installation of the lights and other events connected with the opening of the Christmas shopping season.

Concerning the house decorations contest, Donald Green said that residents of the Midland area do not need to make applications. He said the only requirement will be that houses have their decorations lighted for 3 nights after Christmas between the hours of 7 to 10. The contest takes in the area around Midland also. Prizes will be given by Midland merchants.

Hornick reported on the zoning ordinance public hearing he attended Wednesday evening, held by the Planning Commission in the Borough Building.

A meeting of service clubs and members of the chamber for Jan. 12 was again discussed. The borough's comprehensive plan will be explained.

Letters were read. One thanked the Chamber for its participation in the Rotary Club's Sample Fair in September and the other was from George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., who said the company will give first consideration to work on welcoming signs for both ends of the borough.

Dr. Thomas S. Boyd, president, appointed a nominating committee to prepare a slate for new officers. The committee includes Paul McGeehan, chairman, Tom Fannin and Charles Finley.

McGeehan said he has contacted the Treadwell Construction Co. for information on its facilities up for sale. The information will be sent the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce in an effort to get another industry in Midland. Since several stores have recently sold out, other firms will be contacted to open stores, it was reported.

Next meeting is Dec. 15.

Firemen's Group Re-Elects Banks

Other officers elected were Robert Jones, vice president; Marty Christen, secretary, and Leo McIntosh, treasurer. Harry Reckner was named a trustee.

The Glenmoor volunteer firemen will hold their election Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the station while the Glenmoor Area Improvement Association will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m.

For 81 Years A Dependable Institution

Official Count Finished On 2 District Races

The Columbiana County Election Board today certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus the official canvass of Nov. 8 election returns from the 18th Congressional District and the 20th-22nd State Senatorial District.

Confirming the result shown in the unofficial tabulation completed the day after the election, the official count showed that Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, was re-elected to Congress by a margin of almost 2-to-1 over his Republican opponent, Atty. Walter Jay Hunston of Salem.

The official count also showed a 9,000-vote margin for Atty. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville in winning a second State Senate seat. A Democrat, he defeated Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, Republican.

Hays	96,474
Hunston	50,698

Sargus	70,105
Elliott	61,012

The vote by counties in the congressional race was: Columbiana, Hunston, 19,737, Hays, 25,965; Belmont, Hunston, 11,437, Hays, 27,789; Carroll, Hunston, 3,895, Hays, 5,098; Harrison, Hunston, 3,391, Hays, 4,993, and Jefferson, Hunston, 12,238, Hays, 32,629.

The vote by counties in the senatorial race follows: Columbiana, Elliott, 25,384, Sargus, 17,880; Jefferson, Elliott, 17,646, Sargus, 24,452; Harrison, Elliott, 4,252, Sargus, 3,497, and Belmont, Elliott, 13,730, Sargus, 24,276.

Extensive Separations Of Families Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon has made it clear that a new order involving dependents will not force extensive separations of military families now overseas.

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. said late Thursday a presidential order to reduce the number of overseas military dependents by about 184,000 will be carried out mainly by:

1. Having military men now overseas return to the United States with their families at the end of their normal tours of duty.

2. Returning some military men with their families before completion of their regular assignments.

3. Reducing the number of military dependents sent abroad in the future.

Arraignment Slated In Girl's Skiing Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Maurice Mindlin, 21, indicted in the water skiing death of a 17-year-old girl, was expected to be arraigned today on the second-degree manslaughter charge. The indictment, returned Thursday, is believed to be the first such indictment in Ohio.

Mindlin, of Cleveland Heights, was towing Carol Gilenko of South Euclid at 10:30 one night last summer when an 18-foot cruiser struck the girl, injuring her fatally. Water skiing later than an hour after sunset is forbidden by state law. The accident was on Lake Erie off East 40th Street.

Hemorrhage Fatal To Cleveland Rabbi

CLEVELAND (AP) — Alter M. Pinkas, 53, assistant rabbi at the Taylor Road Synagogue in Cleveland Heights for 15 years, died of a cerebral hemorrhage Thursday at his home. He was stricken Wednesday.

The rabbi, a native of Poland, came to the United States in 1928 and became head of the Homestead Hebrew Congregation in Homestead, Pa. After services today, the body will be sent to Jerusalem for burial on Mount Olive.

Hospital Directors Pictured 'In Middle' Of Pay-Cost Issue

CLEVELAND (AP)—The head of a Cleveland hospital pictures hospital directors as being caught in the middle between employes demanding higher pay and persons who criticize the high cost of medical care.

Sidney Leweine, director of Mt. Sinai Hospital, indicated there would be further pay raises for hospital employes until their pay matched that of persons holding comparable jobs in other fields. This will mean further increases in Blue Cross rates, Lewine said.

He appeared at a public hearing on a request by Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio (BCNO) for a 27.4 per cent rate increase. Winding up two days of hearings Wednesday, State Insurance Supt. Edward A. Stowell said a concluding session will be held here Tuesday.

Lewine declared that "as hospital employer and administrator I am in the position of being kicked from behind for paying low wages and punched in the nose for the high cost of hospital care. I would like to bring up the wages, get my back to the wall and take the blows from one direction," he said.

Increasing pay by only five cents an hour adds one dollar a day to the cost of patient care, said Lewine. "It takes two and a half persons per patient per day to give that care. This means 20 hours of work and at five cents per hour comes to a dollar.

"We will have to take several more five-cent increases before we catch up."

Salaries accounted for 67 per cent of hospital costs, John R. Mannix, executive vice president of BCNO, testified. Mannix said the payroll has gone up 751 per cent since 1938, a year in which hospital employes worked long hours at very low pay.

The best way to control hospital costs is to control hospital construction, keeping the number of available beds in close relation to need, he commented. Seventy-five per cent of hospital costs was in maintenance and staff, and those costs continue whether the bed is occupied or not, the Blue Cross executive testified.

"Facilities in excess of need bring terrific waste," he said, adding that millions of dollars were saved by the rejection of applications for 500 additional beds in Greater Cleveland hospitals.

Omni Club Given Member Report

A membership report was presented by Don Lindensmith, chairman, at a meeting of the Wellsville Omni Boosters Club Wednesday night at the high school cafeteria.

He said the total is 285. Mrs. Frank Leyda, president, presided. Twenty were present.

It was reported 125 attended the teenage dance held Saturday night at MacDonald School. Another dance will be held this Saturday. The chaperones will be John Cataldo, Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. Elsie Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. William Culp, Russell Baughman, Leonard Kinzel and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiggans.

The club went on record giving a vote of thanks to members of the football team, coaches, managers and Dr. D. Y. Campbell, who served as team physician, for a successful season.

Dayton Raids Round Up Trio In Dope Ring

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A series of rapid-fire raids here has netted three alleged members of a narcotics ring which police say was doing an $11,000-a-week business in central and southern Ohio.

Officers said two other ring members were already in jail before the raids were staged Thursday night.

Also rounded up were 16 suspected drug addicts, 14 with police records. A shot was fired in one raid when a suspect tried to get away but no one was hit.

The five accused narcotics salesmen were among eight Daytonians indicted by a grand jury Thursday on a total of 30 counts of violating state narcotics laws.

The roundup climaxed two months of undercover work by two Cincinnati police officers and a federal narcotics agent.

Indicted and arrested Thursday night were Joechphus H. Ramey, 28; Charles L. Hicks, 33, and Inman Kennamore, 35.

Also indicted and already in jail were Robert C. Ramey, 20, and Charles Edward Goff, 23.

Also indicted, but at last report not yet apprehended, were Thomas H. Hanks, alias Jones, 26; Leon Windfey, 23, and James Turner, 35.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: How does a man break the news that it's all over and there's someone else?

I went with Betty for six years. We're now in our middle 30s. She's a fine person but I fell out of love with her when she told me for the fifth time she wasn't ready to give up her career to marry me.

Betty is a capable woman and makes almost as much money as I do.

Anyhow, I know now I love someone else — who will marry me any time I say. I feel a warmth toward my new sweetheart that I never felt for Betty—probably because she's let me know she loves me better than her job.

How do I tell Betty without hurting her? She doesn't have the faintest idea that there is anyone else.—MIKE.

Dear Mike: Tell Betty immediately — don't be too concerned about her feelings. She's probably been waiting to sandbag you with similar news for a long time.

A gal in her 30s who drags her feet on the way to the altar because she likes her career better than the man will not die of heartbreak when she hears he has another love. She'll probably be relieved to be off the hook.

A Dirty Shame

Dear Ann: My husband is a friendly sort who likes to go visiting during the evening. The trouble is he doesn't want to change from his work clothes. He does manual labor and gets pretty dirty.

He says if people like him they'll accept him as he is. According to him if they enjoy his company, his clothing doesn't matter.

I've thought of going visiting in my housedress with messed up hair, just to show him how it looks but I'm afraid I'd only be hurting myself.

Other than this, he's a wonderful husband. Can you tell me what to say to him to prove I'm right? Or is HE right?—EUREKA WIFE.

Dear Eureka: Your husband not only wants to wear the wrong clothes for visiting, he has the shoe on the wrong foot.

Instead of taking the position that if his friends like him it won't matter how he looks, he should show respect for THEM by changing from his work clothes when he visits.

I don't say he must wear his Sunday best — or even put on a white shirt and wear a tie — but a man who does manual labor should change to fresh slacks and a sport shirt before making a social call on friends.

Tear Jerker

Dear Ann: I'm a freshman in college and my steady girl is a high school junior. Since I got to this university, which is 500 miles from home, Norma has phoned me collect at least twice a week — not to talk, but to cry.

She's worried that I won't be true to her. The guys in the dorm hang around and make cracks because they know her voice already.

I'm taking a lot of ribbing and it's costing me dough. I hate to tell her to stop calling but I wish she would. Help, please.—AL.

Dear Al: A college guy who tries to go steady with a high school junior 500 miles away is short-changing himself and the girl, too. And SHE has a nerve to rain on you twice a week — collect yet! Disconnect, Buddy, for good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

1 Killed, 16 Injured As Big Plane Crashes

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP) — A big Air Force tanker plane crashed and burned on landing at Loring Air Force Base early today, killing one crewman and injuring the other 16 aboard.

The Air Force said one of the four crewmen was missing and presumed dead in the burned wreckage.

His identity was not immediately disclosed.

The other 16, including the other three crewmen and 13 passengers—all Air Force personnel—scrambled out of emergency exits after the plane careened some 3,000 feet on the ground.

None of the 16 was considered in serious condition.

The plane was returning to Loring after a 6½ hour refueling mission.

The Air Force said the KC135 of the 42nd Bombardment Wing, veered off the left of the runway on touching down and burst into flames as it ploughed along the ground.

Spunky Starts Prison Term Of 217 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman is just a number today at Ohio Penitentiary. But the number on his back is insignificant compared to the number of years he has to serve.

If he serves the maximum penalty he was given, without time off, it'll be the year 2177 before Spunky walks out a free man. But it's doubtful he'll be breathing then, much less walking. He'd be 238 years old.

When he entered the penitentiary Thursday, dressed in a tattered sweater and slacks and sporting a three-day growth of beard, the 21-year-old Firman was asked if he had added up the total of his sentences.

"Yeah," he replied, "life."

Three or four lifetimes would be more exact. Ohio's summertime "public enemy No. 1" drew a maximum of 217 years in being sentenced in four counties for crimes ranging from kidnaping and armed robbery to grand larceny and jail breaking.

That latter incident, jail breaking, was the start of a month-long crime wave that rocked southern Ohio.

Spunky broke out of the Coshocton County jail July 26 with three other prisoners. All except Firman were recaptured a short time later. The one-man crime wave didn't call it quits until he was shot and wounded near Sherrodsville in Carroll County exactly one month to the day later.

During that period, Spunky kidnaped five people, committed at least two armed robberies and several burglaries, stole enough vehicles to open up a used car lot, choked a woman when she refused him food, and capped it all by breaking back into the jail from which he escaped and freeing a crony.

He had been in jail originally on a minor charge involving giving beer to a young boy. And unbeknown to him,he was scheduled to be released the day after he broke out because the boy's mother had refused to press charges.

Caribbean

The United States later charged that thousands of tons of Soviet arms have been shipped to Castro.

Plots and uprisings were reported afoot in El Salvador and Bolivia Friday even as the last embers of revolt appeared snuffed out in Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Troops were reported mobilized in La Paz, capital of Bolivia, as a precaution against a possible uprising.

Communications were cut between La Paz and Cochabamba, the country's second largest city, where peasants opposed to President Victor Paz Estenssoro clashed with police, troops and other peasants last Monday. About 100 persons were reported killed at that time.

Last Sunday U.S. Ambassador Carl Strom was stoned and jeered by a leftist mob at Cochabamba, 150 miles southeast of La Paz.

The military junta ruling El Salvador, southern neighbor of Guatemala, reported Thursday night it had thwarted a revolutionary plot. It gave no details. Unofficial reports said four army colonels were placed under house arrest after the plot was discovered at Santa Tcla, 10 miles from San Salvador, the capital.

President Miguel Ydigoras of Guatemala was given an enthusiastic reception in Puerto Barrios, chief Caribbean port, after the last of 300 rebels were put to flight.

Ydigoras has charged that "dirty gold" of Castro was used to buy up officers who participated in the revolt.

Terroristic activity continued in the Guatemalan capital. Three bombs exploded Thursday night but caused no casualties. A suspected bomber was caught. Ydigoras has threatened the execution of terrorists.

A member of Guatemala's Congress, Manuel Orellana Portilla, said he would introduce a move to declare war on Cuba if proof of Cuban meddling is presented.

The government of Costa Rica, southern neighbor of Nicaragua, said it found documents linking the revolt in Nicaragua with Castro's Cuba and communism. Costa Rica expelled a Cuban and several Nicaraguans linked with the revolt.

90 At Newell Dinner

Flag Given Auxiliary

Herbert Eddy, commander of Newell American Legion Post 114, presents a 50-star American flag to Mrs. Mae Hupp, auxiliary president, at a joint Veterans Day-membership dinner Thursday night in the post home.

About 90 heard an address on "The Place of Veterans In the Future of America" by Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville, past commander of Wellsville Post 70.

George L. LaNeve of Newell, first vice commander of the West Virginia Department, served as toastmaster. Eddy spoke briefly, urging Legion members to co-operate in boosting membership.

The new flag plus an auxiliary flag will be dedicated later, Mrs. Hupp said. Several past commanders were introduced.

The Rev. T. V. Weills of the First Church of Christ offered the invocation and benediction. A roast beef dinner was served by the auxiliary.

The auxiliary will meet Monday at 6 in the post home to observe "Social Night." A covered dish dinner will be served.

1 Killed, 16 Injured As Big Plane Crashes

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP) — A big Air Force tanker plane crashed and burned on landing at Loring Air Force Base early today, killing one crewman and injuring the other 16 aboard.

The Air Force said one of the four crewmen was missing and presumed dead in the burned wreckage.

His identity was not immediately disclosed.

The other 16, including the other three crewmen and 13 passengers—all Air Force personnel—scrambled out of emergency exits after the plane careened some 3,000 feet on the ground.

None of the 16 was considered in serious condition.

The plane was returning to Loring after a 6½ hour refueling mission.

The Air Force said the KC135 of the 42nd Bombardment Wing, veered off the left of the runway on touching down and burst into flames as it ploughed along the ground.

Spunky Starts Prison Term Of 217 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman is just a number today at Ohio Penitentiary. But the number on his back is insignificant compared to the number of years he has to serve.

If he serves the maximum penalty he was given, without time off, it'll be the year 2177 before Spunky walks out a free man. But it's doubtful he'll be breathing then, much less walking. He'd be 238 years old.

When he entered the penitentiary Thursday, dressed in a tattered sweater and slacks and sporting a three-day growth of beard, the 21-year-old Firman was asked if he had added up the total of his sentences.

"Yeah," he replied, "life."

Three or four lifetimes would be more exact. Ohio's summertime "public enemy No. 1" drew a maximum of 217 years in being sentenced in four counties for crimes ranging from kidnaping and armed robbery to grand larceny and jail breaking.

That latter incident, jail breaking, was the start of a month-long crime wave that rocked southern Ohio.

Spunky broke out of the Coshocton County jail July 26 with three other prisoners. All except Firman were recaptured a short time later. The one-man crime wave didn't call it quits until he was shot and wounded near Sherrodsville in Carroll County exactly one month to the day later.

During that period, Spunky kidnaped five people, committed at least two armed robberies and several burglaries, stole enough vehicles to open up a used car lot, choked a woman when she refused him food, and capped it all by breaking back into the jail from which he escaped and freeing a crony.

He had been in jail originally on a minor charge involving giving beer to a young boy. And unbeknown to him,he was scheduled to be released the day after he broke out because the boy's mother had refused to press charges.

Caribbean

The United States later charged that thousands of tons of Soviet arms have been shipped to Castro.

Plots and uprisings were reported afoot in El Salvador and Bolivia Friday even as the last embers of revolt appeared snuffed out in Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Troops were reported mobilized in La Paz, capital of Bolivia, as a precaution against a possible uprising.

Communications were cut between La Paz and Cochabamba, the country's second largest city, where peasants opposed to President Victor Paz Estenssoro clashed with police, troops and other peasants last Monday. About 100 persons were reported killed at that time.

Last Sunday U.S. Ambassador Carl Strom was stoned and jeered by a leftist mob at Cochabamba, 150 miles southeast of La Paz.

The military junta ruling El Salvador, southern neighbor of Guatemala, reported Thursday night it had thwarted a revolutionary plot. It gave no details. Unofficial reports said four army colonels were placed under house arrest after the plot was discovered at Santa Tcla, 10 miles from San Salvador, the capital.

President Miguel Ydigoras of Guatemala was given an enthusiastic reception in Puerto Barrios, chief Caribbean port, after the last of 300 rebels were put to flight.

Ydigoras has charged that "dirty gold" of Castro was used to buy up officers who participated in the revolt.

Terroristic activity continued in the Guatemalan capital. Three bombs exploded Thursday night but caused no casualties. A suspected bomber was caught. Ydigoras has threatened the execution of terrorists.

A member of Guatemala's Congress, Manuel Orellana Portilla, said he would introduce a move to declare war on Cuba if proof of Cuban meddling is presented.

The government of Costa Rica, southern neighbor of Nicaragua, said it found documents linking the revolt in Nicaragua with Castro's Cuba and communism. Costa Rica expelled a Cuban and several Nicaraguans linked with the revolt.

Pottery Union Prepares For 1961 Election

Preparing for election of its 12 top offficers in 1961, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today outlined the balloting procedure for its local unions.

Local unions will chose nominees at their first January meetings, the first step toward the primary election on Tuesday, March 7. The two who receive the highest votes for each office in the primaries will run again in a general election Tuesday, May 2.

For the first time in history, acting under a recent change in the constitution, international officers will be elected for four years. New terms will begin on Aug. 1.

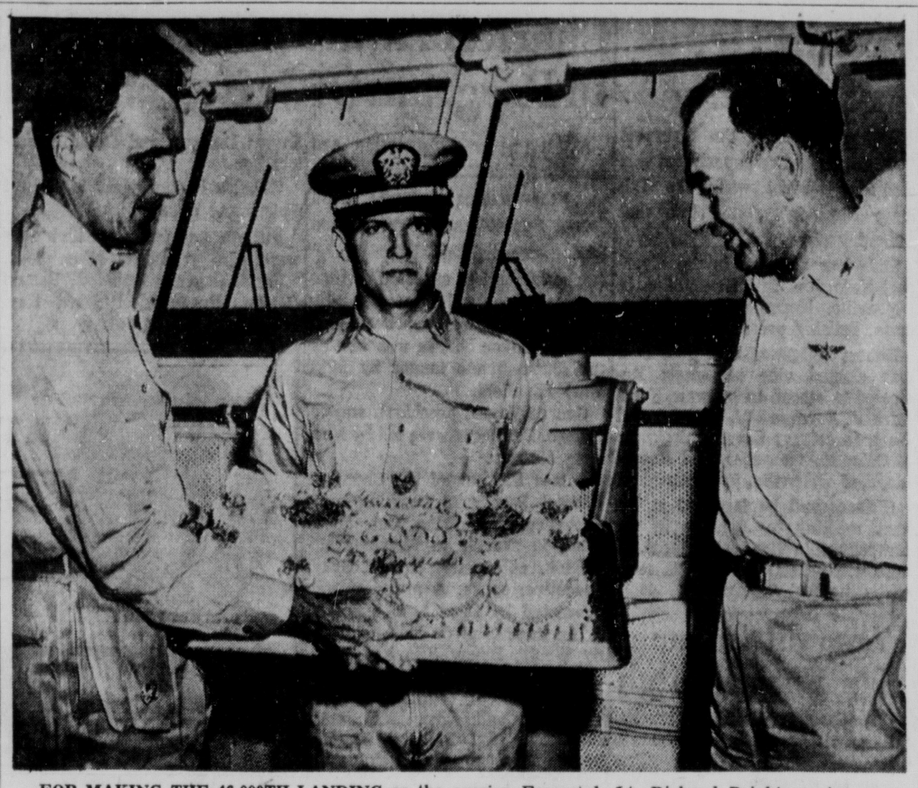
Local unions must report nominees' names to IBOP headquarters within 10 days after they are chosen, the international explained. The names will be published in the official newspaper, The Potters Herald, and the nominees will be required to accept within 20 days of the first publication.

The third, sixth, seventh and eighth vice presidents must reside west of the Allegheny Mountains, the IBOP pointed out. The fourth, fifth and ninth vice presidents will be elected from the area east of the Alleghenies.

The post of 10th vice president will be filled by a resident of the West Coast area. Nominees who do not meet the constitutional residence requirements will be barred from the ballot, the IBOP said.

In addition to an international president and 10 vice presidents, the IBOP will elect a secretary-treasurer and two delegates to the 1961 AFL-CIO convention.

E. L. Wheatley of East Liverpool is president and Charles F. Jordan of East Liverpool is secretary-treasurer. The vice presidents are: W. E. Clawges of Trenton, N. J., first; George Pace of Huntington Park, Calif., second; James Slaven of Cannons Mills, third; George Barbaree of Trenton, fourth; Arthur Devlin of Trenton, fifth; Frank Dales of East Liverpool, sixth; Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh; Clyde Jones of Alliance, eighth; George Smith of Trenton, ninth and William Rail of Huntington Park, tenth.



FOR MAKING THE 46,000TH LANDING on the carrier Forrestal, Lt. Richard Bright, center, was presented the gaily-decorated cake above. Bright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bright, 676 Riley Ave. He was graduated in 1952 from East Liverpool High School, attended naval school and now is a naval airman, flying the F3H Demon jet. Lt. Comdr. Koach and Capt. Riera are the interested onlookers.

Beechwood Motorist Fined On Registration

Joseph J. Ross, 27, of 211 Beechwood St., was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal registration.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told Ross he may pay the fine on Monday and that the penalty may be reduced if the defendant has transferred his registration in the meantime. Ross told the judge he failed to transfer registration after acquiring a new car in September. He was cited at 8:27 p. m. Thursday on State St.

John D. Judy of Cherry Grove, W. Va., forfeited a $16 bond today on a charge of crossing over a double yellow line on Route 30. He was cited Tuesday by the State Highway Patrol. Byron C. Dray of R. D. 2 was cited at 6:09 p. m. Thursday for crashing a stop sign at Globe and Palissey Sts., but failed to appear for a hearing this morning as scheduled.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Charles Lane, 81, of Cleveland, who was rescued from a fire at her home Sunday, died Thursday in Metropolitan General Hospital. She had been treated for smoke inhalation.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

'Hindering' Child With Homework

I often sit and muse over the tragic scenes that take place when an angry parent supposes he or she is helping a youngster with his reading, spelling or arithmetic but is actually hindering him instead. The parent's voice is loud and shrill, shouting angry words at the child, charging him with being inattentive or accusing him in such terms as dumbbell, lazy or ornery, even threatening him with violence if he "makes that same mistake again". All the while, the parent's insides are churning and his or her breathing is very irregular. This parent may grow so enraged, indeed, as to act almost like a maniac.

IN HOPELESS despair, the child, if not restrained physically, may run away in tears and sobs, hating the lessons to be learned, hating school and hating the parent.

What makes it still worse for the child is to know that tomorrow evening and the next and the next the same thing will happen. "How long, O Lord, how long?" he wonders.

Over the years I have been writing this column, many a mother has written to say that she is driven to distraction every evening "helping" her child with his homework.

In not one of such letters do I read, even between the lines, that the parent ever imagines how distracted the youngster is, how much he suffers, or how seldom, if ever, she has tried to put herself in her imagination in his place.

MY FELLOW parent, when you attempt to help your child with reading, spelling or arithmetic, or at learning anything else, please remember that he must feel worthy and hopeful if he is going to learn. Make your first aim to help him attain and enjoy success.

Therefore, you need so to manage yourself as not to raise your voice or have any stirring of your insides or any occasion to feel vexed at him.

The moment you feel unable to do this, walk quietly away from him and thus prove you are his friend and not his enemy.

My bulletins, "Helping Your Child With His Lessons" and "How To Control Your Temper", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Election Opens For Police Lodge

The annual election of officers of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 got under way this morning at headquarters, with the balloting scheduled to continue until 9 a. m. Monday.

Candidates for president are Patrolmen W. E. McDaniel and Robert Duffy. Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice is the incumbent.

Other candidates are: Patrolman Lloyd Garvey, for vice president; Patrolmen Jerry Adkins, E. R. Ferguson and W. A. Devon, for secretary-treasurer; Patrolman Kenneth Mooney, for inner guard; Patrolmen Paul Lemal and Floyd Heddleston, for outer guard; Patrolman R. E. Higgins, for chaplain, and Patrolman Tice, for trustee.

The ballots will be tabulated later by the FOP Board of Trustees.

Historic Dud

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma Historical Society owns an oil well. It was donated by a firm which felt the well would be of interest to visitors. It is not a producer.

Booster Group Helps Feed Salineville Team

SALINEVILLE — A contribution of some $30 to assist the mothers of the Salineville football players in providing a meal after games was approved by the Athletic Boosters Club Thursday night.

It was announced the club netted some $150 from a barbershop quartet concert earlier this month. A letter of appreciation was ordered for the East Liverpool chapter of the SPEBSQSA, which presented the program.

Movies of the Salineville-United and Wooster-Mount football games were screened. Discussion was held on football insurance. About 25 attended. Warren Dunlap, president, was in charge.

Ageless Minnies

SUNBURY, Ohio (AP) — It may be merely a coincidence but the name Minnie seems to be synonymous with health and longevity in Sunbury. Three elderly Sunbury widows have a combined age of 287 years and all are named Minnie. Mrs. Minnie Williams is 97, while Mrs. Minnie Gorsuch and Mrs. Minnie Hoover both are 95.

Films Shown To DeMolays

Two films were screened by Phil Irwin and Bob Kidd Jr. when Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, met Thursday night in the Masonic Temple.

They were "Spills and Thrills," about sports car racing, and "Arctic DEW Line," illustrating the construction and operations of the nation's distant early warning radar system.

Plans were discussed for sponsoring a '4Buddy Night" at a Christmas dance Dec. 17 at 8:30 in the temple. Richard Young was named chairman of the music committee for the dance. His committee includes Dale Hoffman and Thomas Powers.

Powers, master councilor, presided for business. Petitions for two new members were approved. Committee chairmen reporting were Irwin, basketball; Hoffman, sweetheart dance; Wayne Locke, bowling, and Powers, rifle team.

The bowling team will meet Saturday afternoon at 1. A practice drill for the rifle team will be announced later.

There will be obligation practices Wednesday and Nov. 29 at 6:30 p. m. in the temple. Officers' practice is scheduled Tuesday night at 7.

Members were reminded that dues are payable. The next meeting will be Dec. 1 in the temple for initiation when 6 new members will receive DeMolay degrees. Lunch will be served by the Mothers Circle.

Driver Blinded By Sun In Lincoln Ave. Mishap

A 23-year-old driver whose auto struck another Thursday at 3:45 p. m. on Lincoln Ave. at St. Clair Ave. told police he was blinded by the sun as he rounded the curve.

The 1953 two-door sedan of Jack O. Gloeckner, 1200 Avondale St., hit a 1951 two-door operated by Homer R. Hayes, 30, of LaCroft, who was driving south on Lincoln in a line of traffic, police said. Gloeckner told police he was blinded by the sun as he turned off St. Clair onto Lincoln.

Mrs. Florence A. Hayes, 31, wife of the LaCroft motorist, was examined at City Hospital following the crash, then released. No injuries were listed.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

135 Attend School Drivers' Dinner

LISBON — Some 135 persons attended the second annual Columbiana County school bus drivers' dinner Thursday evening at Salem Senior High School.

John Parsons, director of transportation of the State Department of Education, was guest speaker.

Cpl. John Miller and Patrolman Merle Darrah of the State Highway Patrol spoke on school bus safety and the annual inspections by the patrol. Miller said emergency evacuation is important in case of a school bus accident.

Drivers, mechanics, school administrators and Board of Education members from the city, village and county school systems attended.

Health Board Given Report

There were 116 births and 31 deaths in East Liverpool in the month ending Nov. 17, the Board of Health was told at its meeting Thursday night in its City Hall office.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, made the report covering the period from Oct. 20.

Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, public health nurse, reported 25 patients were examined in a clinic Wednesday by Dr William B. Mikita, Steubenville orthopedic specialist.

Ninety-one polio shots were administered in the clinic in the period since the last meeting, Mrs. Carpenter said.

Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, said 151 inspections were made by sanitary inspectors. E. R. Liebschner, chairman, presided.

Pottery Union Prepares For 1961 Election

Preparing for election of its 12 top offficers in 1961, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today outlined the balloting procedure for its local unions.

Local unions will chose nominees at their first January meetings, the first step toward the primary election on Tuesday, March 7. The two who receive the highest votes for each office in the primaries will run again in a general election Tuesday, May 2.

For the first time in history, acting under a recent change in the constitution, international officers will be elected for four years. New terms will begin on Aug. 1.

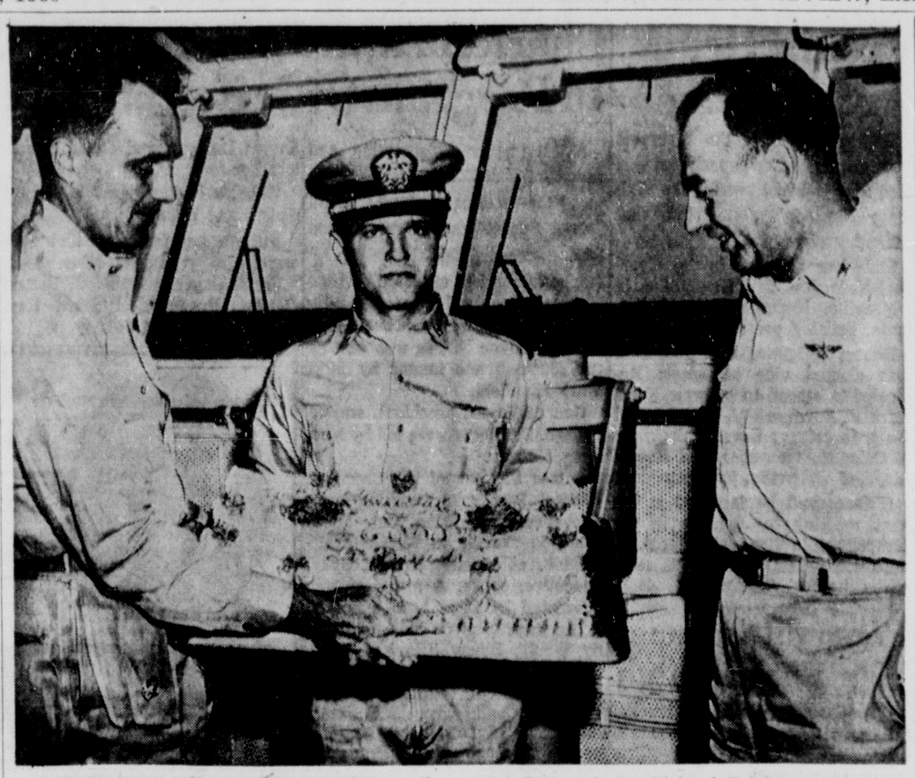
Local unions must report nominees' names to IBOP headquarters within 10 days after they are chosen, the international explained. The names will be published in the official newspaper, The Potters Herald, and the nominees will be required to accept within 20 days of the first publication.

The third, sixth, seventh and eighth vice presidents must reside west of the Allegheny Mountains, the IBOP pointed out. The fourth, fifth and ninth vice presidents will be elected from the area east of the Alleghenies.

The post of 10th vice president will be filled by a resident of the West Coast area. Nominees who do not meet the constitutional residence requirements will be barred from the ballot, the IBOP said.

In addition to an international president and 10 vice presidents, the IBOP will elect a secretary-treasurer and two delegates to the 1961 AFL-CIO convention.

E. L. Wheatley of East Liverpool is president and Charles F. Jordan of East Liverpool is secretary-treasurer. The vice presidents are: W. E. Clawges of Trenton, N. J., first; George Pace of Huntington Park, Calif., second; James Slaven of Cannons Mills, third; George Barbaree of Trenton, fourth; Arthur Devlin of Trenton, fifth; Frank Dales of East Liverpool, sixth; Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh; Clyde Jones of Alliance, eighth; George Smith of Trenton, ninth and William Rail of Huntington Park, tenth.



FOR MAKING THE 46,000TH LANDING on the carrier Forrestal, Lt. Richard Bright, center, was presented the gaily-decorated cake above. Bright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bright, 676 Riley Ave. He was graduated in 1952 from East Liverpool High School, attended naval school and now is a naval airman, flying the F3H Demon jet. Lt. Comdr. Koach and Capt. Riera are the interested onlookers.

Beechwood Motorist Fined On Registration

Joseph J. Ross, 27, of 211 Beechwood St., was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal registration.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told Ross he may pay the fine on Monday and that the penalty may be reduced if the defendant has transferred his registration in the meantime. Ross told the judge he failed to transfer registration after acquiring a new car in September. He was cited at 8:27 p. m. Thursday on State St.

John D. Judy of Cherry Grove, W. Va., forfeited a $16 bond today on a charge of crossing over a double yellow line on Route 30. He was cited Tuesday by the State Highway Patrol. Byron C. Dray of R. D. 2 was cited at 6:09 p. m. Thursday for crashing a stop sign at Globe and Palissey Sts., but failed to appear for a hearing this morning as scheduled.

Cumberland Student Named College Editor

NEW CUMBERLAND — Jack Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Welch of R. D. 1, has been appointed current events editor of the "Babbler," a publication of David Lipscomb College at Nashville, Tenn.

Welch was valedictorian and president of the Senior Class, and vice president of the student body at New Cumberland. He also was business manager of the school annual and a member of the band.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Charles Lane, 81, of Cleveland, who was rescued from a fire at her home Sunday, died Thursday in Metropolitan General Hospital. She had been treated for smoke inhalation.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

'Hindering' Child With Homework

I often sit and muse over the tragic scenes that take place when an angry parent supposes he or she is helping a youngster with his reading, spelling or arithmetic but is actually hindering him instead. The parent's voice is loud and shrill, shouting angry words at the child, charging him with being inattentive or accusing him in such terms as dumbbell, lazy or ornery, even threatening him with violence if he "makes that same mistake again". All the while, the parent's insides are churning and his or her breathing is very irregular. This parent may grow so enraged, indeed, as to act almost like a maniac.

IN HOPELESS despair, the child, if not restrained physically, may run away in tears and sobs, hating the lessons to be learned, hating school and hating the parent.

What makes it still worse for the child is to know that tomorrow evening and the next and the next the same thing will happen. "How long, O Lord, how long?" he wonders.

Over the years I have been writing this column, many a mother has written to say that she is driven to distraction every evening "helping" her child with his homework.

In not one of such letters do I read, even between the lines, that the parent ever imagines how distracted the youngster is, how much he suffers, or how seldom, if ever, she has tried to put herself in her imagination in his place.

MY FELLOW parent, when you attempt to help your child with reading, spelling or arithmetic, or at learning anything else, please remember that he must feel worthy and hopeful if he is going to learn. Make your first aim to help him attain and enjoy success.

Therefore, you need so to manage yourself as not to raise your voice or have any stirring of your insides or any occasion to feel vexed at him.

The moment you feel unable to do this, walk quietly away from him and thus prove you are his friend and not his enemy.

My bulletins, "Helping Your Child With His Lessons" and "How To Control Your Temper", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Election Opens For Police Lodge

The annual election of officers of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 got under way this morning at headquarters, with the balloting scheduled to continue until 9 a. m. Monday.

Other candidates are: Patrolman Lloyd Garvey, for vice president; Patrolmen Jerry Adkins, E. R. Ferguson and W. A. Devon, for secretary-treasurer; Patrolman Kenneth Mooney, for inner guard; Patrolmen Paul Lemal and Floyd Heddleston, for outer guard; Patrolman R. E. Higgins, for chaplain, and Patrolman Tice, for trustee.

The ballots will be tabulated later by the FOP Board of Trustees.

Historic Dud

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma Historical Society owns an oil well. It was donated by a firm which felt the well would be of interest to visitors. It is not a producer.

Booster Group Helps Feed Salineville Team

SALINEVILLE — A contribution of some $30 to assist the mothers of the Salineville football players in providing a meal after games was approved by the Athletic Boosters Club Thursday night.

It was announced the club netted some $150 from a barbershop quartet concert earlier this month. A letter of appreciation was ordered for the East Liverpool chapter of the SPEBSQSA, which presented the program.

Movies of the Salineville-United and Wooster-Mount football games were screened. Discussion was held on football insurance. About 25 attended. Warren Dunlap, president, was in charge.

Ageless Minnies

SUNBURY, Ohio (AP) — It may be merely a coincidence but the name Minnie seems to be synonymous with health and longevity in Sunbury. Three elderly Sunbury widows have a combined age of 287 years and all are named Minnie. Mrs. Minnie Williams is 97, while Mrs. Minnie Gorsuch and Mrs. Minnie Hoover both are 95.

Films Shown To DeMolays

Two films were screened by Phil Irwin and Bob Kidd Jr. when Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, met Thursday night in the Masonic Temple.

They were "Spills and Thrills," about sports car racing, and "Arctic DEW Line," illustrating the construction and operations of the nation's distant early warning radar system.

Plans were discussed for sponsoring a "Buddy Night" at a Christmas dance Dec. 17 at 8:30 in the temple. Richard Young was named chairman of the music committee for the dance. His committee includes Dale Hoffman and Thomas Powers.

Powers, master councilor, presided for business. Petitions for two new members were approved. Committee chairmen reporting were Irwin, basketball; Hoffman, sweetheart dance; Wayne Locke, bowling, and Powers, rifle team.

The bowling team will meet Saturday afternoon at 1. A practice drill for the rifle team will be announced later.

There will be obligation practices Wednesday and Nov. 29 at 6:30 p. m. in the temple. Officers' practice is scheduled Tuesday night at 7.

Members were reminded that dues are payable. The next meeting will be Dec. 1 in the temple for initiation when 6 new members will receive DeMolay degrees. Lunch will be served by the Mothers Circle.

Driver Blinded By Sun In Lincoln Ave. Mishap

A 23-year-old driver whose auto struck another Thursday at 3:45 p. m. on Lincoln Ave. at St. Clair Ave. told police he was blinded by the sun as he rounded the curve.

The 1953 two-door sedan of Jack O. Gloeckner, 1200 Avondale St., hit a 1951 two-door operated by Homer R. Hayes, 30, of LaCroft, who was driving south on Lincoln in a line of traffic, police said. Gloeckner told police he was blinded by the sun as he turned off St. Clair onto Lincoln.

Mrs. Florence A. Hayes, 31, wife of the LaCroft motorist, was examined at City Hospital following the crash, then released. No injuries were listed.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average 3 - 6 degrees above normal. Normal high 46, normal low 31. Warming trend over the weekend, then turning cooler late in period. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters inch as rain about Monday and Tuesday.

135 Attend School Drivers' Dinner

LISBON — Some 135 persons attended the second annual Columbiana County school bus drivers' dinner Thursday evening at Salem Senior High School.

John Parsons, director of transportation of the State Department of Education, was guest speaker.

Cpl. John Miller and Patrolman Merle Darrah of the State Highway Patrol spoke on school bus safety and the annual inspections by the patrol. Miller said emergency evacuation is important in case of a school bus accident.

Drivers, mechanics, school administrators and Board of Education members from the city, village and county school systems attended.

Health Board Given Report

There were 116 births and 31 deaths in East Liverpool in the month ending Nov. 17, the Board of Health was told at its meeting Thursday night in its City Hall office.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, made the report covering the period from Oct. 20.

Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, public health nurse, reported 25 patients were examined in a clinic Wednesday by Dr. William B. Mikita, Steubenville orthopedic specialist.

Ninety-one polio shots were administered in the clinic in the period since the last meeting, Mrs. Carpenter said.

Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, said 151 inspections were made by sanitary inspectors. E. R. Liebschner, chairman, presided.

Meters Used At Wellsville

Wellsville's new parking meters were in use today on a trial basis.

Some 230 of the meter heads were installed Thursday on the standards which were set earlier.

Police John Hephner instructed his officers to begin enforcing the meter regulations today. He said the department has some 10,000 special parking meter tickets.

The tickets contain an envelope in which the motorist inserts his money and drops it into one of the collection boxes which will be located along the streets.

Metered parking hours are 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturday.

Zones also have been created for commercial vehicles to load or unload. They are in effect from 8 a. m. to noon daily, except Sundays and holidays.

Oscar VanDyke, City Hall custodian, will serve as repairman and collector for the meters. He will be paid $20 per month for the work.

The meters were purchased from the Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma City, Okla. at $56.50 each. They are the manual type.

The meters are to be tried for a year. The revenue is to go toward the repair and improvement of city streets.

Project Is Completed On Palestine Area Road

EAST PALESTINE — The State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia said the 0.9-mile improvement of a section of Township Rd. 958 — the Carbon Hill Rd.—has been completed.

The Laughlin Excavating Co. of Canton had the $81,643 contract. The project on Carbon Hill Rd. begins about a mile north of East Palestine and ends at the junction with State Route 14 in Unity. Work included widening, improvement of alignment and grade and paving.

The federal government furnished the financing, the State Highway Department administered the contract and Columbiana County provided inspection of work.

Welfare Department Begins Series On County Activities

LISBON — Designed to better acquaint the public with the activities, procedures and costs to administer the various welfare programs, Robert Bycroft, director, is preparing a series of articles to be issued possibly weekly until the various programs have been covered. He commented:

"Welfare assistance can no longer be considered just something of a crises nature. It is constant, growning by leaps and bounds, and now in the class of big business.

"The Columbiana County Welfare Department will spend in excess of one half-million dollars during this calendar year. Imagine where expenditures would be if we did not have unemployment benefits, social security and other types of pensions?

"The department was formed in 1946 and since that time has administered all categories of assistance, including child welfare services.

"Individuals and families become in need because of unemployment, illness or disability, death, desertion or imprisonment, plus many other reasons.

All of the policies relative to giving assistance are prepared and presented by the State Welfare Department. County departments must follow state procedures to be assured of their full share of state and federal monies. The federal government participates in financing several of the programs; therefore, the state plan also must always be in accord with federal regulations.

"General relief (county area only); assistance to dependent children; aid to permanent and totally disabled; aid to needy blind; child welfare services; crippled children's program; mentally retarded school classes; surplus food and the Kyes Memorial Receiving Home."

Those categories will be presented in the series beginning next week with the general relief program, Bycroft said.

Millsop To Receive 1961 Fairless Award

Thomas E. Millsop, president of National Steel Corp., and former mayor of Weirton, has been named by the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers as the recipient of the Benjamin F. Fairless Award for 1961.

The honor is in recognition of Millsop's "accomplishments in behalf of the steel industry, for his support of continuing technical progress in the industry, and for his civic endeavors."

The Award was established in 1954 through a fund provided by U. S. Steel Corp. to honor Benjamin F. Fairless for his interest in the technology and development of the iron and steel industry.

Child Dies In Fire

Cronin Heads Area Firemen

Homer Cronin of the Liverpool Township West fire department was elected president when the Tri-State Firemen's Association met Thursday night.

Robert Badger of Liverpool East was elected vice president; Re-elected to second terms were Frederick P. Fryman of Liverpool West, secretary; Laverne Seckman of Calcutta, treasurer, and Robert Lloyd of Wellsville, fire instructor.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting in January in the Lawrenceville fire department. A date will be set. Lunch was served by the host department.

Personal Income Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income of Americans climbed to a record annual rate of $409.6 billion in October.

The total was $800 million higher than the annual rate for September and was $25 billion above the annual rate of October last year.

The Commerce Department, in announcing the figures Thursday, said a dip in the total wages paid factory workers in October was more than offset by small gains in pay for government, construction and retail employes. Farm income dipped slightly during the month. Income of business proprietors and professional men improved slightly.

Insurance Firm Fetes 50 Agents With Dinner

LISBON — Fifty attended a dinner for district agents of the Nationwide Insurance Co. and their wives Wednesday night at Aldom's Restaurant in Alliance.

The agents were honored for attaining sales quotas in a drive in honor of Murray D. Lincoln, company president. Each received a bronze medallion with a picture of Lincoln. Glen Erftenbeck of Canton, regional sales superintendent, was host.

G. V. Weinstock of Lisbon, district sales manager, was toastmaster. Talks were given by Erftenbeck and George Bratlett, regional sales manager. Agents attended from East Liverpool, Salem, Damascus, Hanoverton, Columbiana, Salineville and Lisbon.

Charter, Awards Given Cubs In Program Of Jefferson PTA

A charter presentation and award of Cub Scout citations featured the meeting of the Jefferson School Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday night at Newell.

A contribution of $10 for the Hancock County Retarded Children's Council was approved, and the attendance banner was won by the fourth grade taught by Miss Mary Highfield.

George Vukas, president, was in charge. Devotions were led by Mrs. June Mooney.

James Pattison of the Cherokee District Boy Scout camping committee presented the Cub Scout Pack 10 charter to Melvin Whittington, cubmaster. Robert Gray, executive, spoke. A program was presented by Dens 1, 2, 4 and 5.

The awards given included Randy Weills, Danny Filo and Thurman Wilson, bobcats; John Durham, Chucky Church, Danney Copestick and Allen Six, wolf; Copestick, Six, Richard Haynes, bear; Michael Franczek and James Durham and David Anderson lion.

Webelos badges went to Robert Vukas and Franczek.

Fiftieth anniversary ribbons were also presented seven boys.

A Webelos ceremony was held with A. R. Webb and Robert Lee in charge. Troop 29 of Newell participated in the ceremony in which Franczek and Vukas were given the award.

Hostesses were Mrs. Paul Rayburn, Mrs. Arthur Daugherty, Mrs. Howard Copestick, Mrs. Leonard Copestick, Mrs. Robert Ring and Mrs. Richard Dunlevy.

"General relief (county area only); assistance to dependent children; aid to permanent and totally disabled; aid to needy blind; child welfare services; crippled children's program; mentally retarded school classes; surplus food and the Kyes Memorial Receiving Home."

Those categories will be presented in the series beginning next week with the general relief program, Bycroft said.

Millsop To Receive 1961 Fairless Award

Thomas E. Millsop, president of National Steel Corp., and former mayor of Weirton, has been named by the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers as the recipient of the Benjamin F. Fairless Award for 1961.

The honor is in recognition of Millsop's "accomplishments in behalf of the steel industry, for his support of continuing technical progress in the industry, and for his civic endeavors."

The Award was established in 1954 through a fund provided by U. S. Steel Corp. to honor Benjamin F. Fairless for his interest in the technology and development of the iron and steel industry.

Child Dies In Fire

Cronin Heads Area Firemen

Homer Cronin of the Liverpool Township West fire department was elected president when the Tri-State Firemen's Association met Thursday night.

Robert Badger of Liverpool East was elected vice president; Re-elected to second terms were Frederick P. Fryman of Liverpool West, secretary; Laverne Seckman of Calcutta, treasurer, and Robert Lloyd of Wellsville, fire instructor.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting in January in the Lawrenceville fire department. A date will be set. Lunch was served by the host department.

Personal Income Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income of Americans climbed to a record annual rate of $409.6 billion in October.

The total was $800 million higher than the annual rate for September and was $25 billion above the annual rate of October last year.

The Commerce Department, in announcing the figures Thursday, said a dip in the total wages paid factory workers in October was more than offset by small gains in pay for government, construction and retail employes. Farm income dipped slightly during the month. Income of business proprietors and professional men improved slightly.

Insurance Firm Fetes 50 Agents With Dinner

LISBON — Fifty attended a dinner for district agents of the Nationwide Insurance Co. and their wives Wednesday night at Aldom's Restaurant in Alliance.

The agents were honored for attaining sales quotas in a drive in honor of Murray D. Lincoln, company president. Each received a bronze medallion with a picture of Lincoln. Glen Erftenbeck of Canton, regional sales superintendent, was host.

G. V. Weinstock of Lisbon, district sales manager, was toastmaster. Talks were given by Erftenbeck and George Bratlett, regional sales manager. Agents attended from East Liverpool, Salem, Damascus, Hanoverton, Columbiana, Salineville and Lisbon.

Family Of 4 Killed As Car, Train Collide

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A Fremont family of four was killed late Thursday when their car and a Nickel Plate Road freight train collided at a crossing three miles west of here.

Killed were Thomas Gabel, 31; his wife, Joanne, 29, and their daughters, Sharon, 5, and Brenda, 4. The parents were deaf mutes, but the children had normal speech and hearing.

Sheriff's deputies said Gabel and his wife apparently did not see the train as he drove onto the crossing at Sandusky County Road 12. The car was carried 275 feet along the tracks. The bodies of Gabel and Sharon were found pinned in the wreckage. Mrs. Gabel and Brenda were found lying along the tracks. All were killed instantly.

D. J. Moore of Lima, Ohio, engineer of the train which was bound for Sandusky, said the locomotive's whistle was blowing and its headlight was on as the train approached the crossing. The accident occurred about dusk.

Moore said the train was going about 25 miles an hour when the car suddenly loomed in front of it and there was no time to stop.

Robert Gray of Fremont, who had been hunting in the area, witnessed the crash as he waited by the side of the road for his wife to pick him up.

"I saw that the car wasn't going to make it," he told sheriff's deputies. "I tried to stop the driver by waving at him, but he didn't pay any attention. I know he did not see the train."

Authorities said only two trains a day pass by the crosing. It is protected only by a warning cross-arm.

Detects Eye Disease

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University has announced the development of an improved instrument to measure pressure inside the eyes and help detect glaucoma, an eye disease which frequently causes blindness. Dr. Frederick W. Hebbard, assistant professor in the school of optometry who developed the electric tonometer, said it is essentially an improved version of an instrument developed two years ago at the University of California, but that "tests indicate ours is more precise."

Man Gets 10 Days On Drunk Driving

A 48-year-old East Liverpool man was convicted Thursday afternoon on a drunken driving charge after a Municipal Court hearing that required almost two hours.

Victor S. Dunn, 746 St. Clair Ave., was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail by Judge Samuel M.. Chertoff, who also suspended his operator's permit for 18 months.

Represented by Atty. W. S. Foulks, Dunn entered a not guilty plea. Launched yesterday morning, the hearing continued well past noon.

Dunn was cited Nov. 4 after witnesses told police he nearly hit an oncoming car on Harvey Ave. and then backed into a parked auto. At the time of his arrest, he also was charged with reckless driving, but the second count was withdrawn later.

Light Plane Grazes Airliner, Both Safe

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The spinning propeller of a light plane grazed the wing of a big United Air Lines DC6 1,500 feet over Stapleton Airfield here late Thursday.

Both planes landed safely. There were no injuries.

The 14 passengers aboard the airliner were unaware of the collision until after Capt. W. A. Tallman of Seattle landed the four-engine craft. It received several slashes in its left wingtip.

Allen Alterman, 35, a Denver business executive, landed his single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza despite a crumpled wing and a bent propeller. His plane skidded across a runway at Stapleton and came to rest in a wheat field.

Game Prices Approved By Beaver Association

Admission prices to Beaver Local High School basketball games were approved by the Athletic Association Wednesday night.

Prices will be 90 cents for adults and 60 cents for children — the same as last year — Lee Kirkland, chairman, said.

The group will study the possibility of obtaining liability insurance for fans and others at sports events and other public meetings sponsored by the association.

The next meeting will be in January.

13 Potter Seniors Play In Finale Tonight

THE SIGN Coach Lou Venditti holds reads "these are musts." They include Youngstown South and Salem, both beaten by the Potters. Now its Alliance which Gary Montgomery (left) and Larry Crook point to prior to tonight's meeting with the Aviators. East Liverpool's 13 seniors who will be playing their final game for the Potters are grouped around Venditti. They are, first row, left to right, Joe Smith, Glenn Mays, Montgomery, Crook, Skip Hall and Mike Geon. Second row, standing, Tim Archer, Joe Thompson, John Goodballet, Craig O'Neil, Venditti, Kenny Cunningham, Dave Couch and Bud Myers.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Alliance Coach Worried? . . .

"Unless our attitude changes, we are likely to get beat," Alliance Coach Mel Knowlton said earlier this week when looking to the game with East Liverpool tonight.

The feeling up Alliance way is that the season ended last week when the Aviators kicked the Ohio championship out the door by losing to Niles in a tough one, 16-14.

The Aviators have been battling the best in the state. They were in front of Massillon in the second-half, but the Tigers came back to win a close one, 14-10.

The East Liverpool - Alliance game has always been an attractive one, but tonight's crowd at Patterson Field would have been greater if the Aviators would have won last week.

Losing to Niles took some of the luster off the clash. Alliance would have been pressing Massillon for first place in the state and the Aviator fans would have followed the team here in larger numbers.

Now Alliance is only attempting to protect its No. 3 rating in the state.

Alliance received 2,040 tickets for tonight's game, but the ticket manager there said late Thursday that only 1,500 had been sold. "We'll have our faithful 1,500," he said.

TWO ALLIANCE scouts were caught Tuesday looking in on the Potters' practice session at Patterson Field.

They were in a car looking down on the drills with field glasses and making charts of Potter plays.

Pro Football Seeks Allen . . .

IF THE post office at Lafayette, Ind., is getting an extra run on mail lately it is probably because of Bernie Allen.

Professional football teams have been writing Allen along with major league baseball clubs. While Bernie has had his sights set on a career in professional baseball, maybe a lucrative offer from the pro gridiron will change his mind.

The basketball coach at Purdue also has asked Allen to come out for the Boilermaker cage squad after football is over.

Allen winds up an outstanding gridiron career at the Big 10 school Saturday when Purdue plays host to Indiana.

Bernie broke into the Purdue lineup as a sophomore and has been a mainstay ever since. He also has earned two varsity letters in baseball.

Beaver Local Vs. Wellsville? . . .

Relations between Wellsville and Beaver Local aren't too good at the present time and both schools are considering abandoning their game next season.

A two year home-and-home contract ended with the Nov. 4 game this season.

Beaver Local school officials and fans said the incident which soured them was an announcement made on the public address system before the game two weeks ago at Wellsville. It said the Wellsville loss in 1959 was the result of "poor officiating" at Beaver Local.

Meanwhile, Wellsville didn't like the treatment it received at Beaver Local in 1959 and at this time it seems unlikely that the two teams will get together.

There are two sides to every story. However, by not scheduling one another, the schools are depriving themselves of a good gate. The game at Wellsville drew over 3,000 this year.

Wellsville and Beaver Local also ended relations in basketball this season.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

SOME OF the fanfare is gone from the Massillon-Canton McKinley game. Before tickets were scarce and you almost had to "know" somebody in order to get a hold of a good one.

The interest especially in Canton is not what it used to be. Saturday's contest will be played at Massillon.

DAVE BROOKS, the former all-state basketball player from Chester, will help inaugurate the new $600,000 gymnasium at Malone College in Canton on Saturday.

Brooks will be in the starting lineup for Malone in its opener against Indian Tech. He was a regular on the Canton five last season.

LOOKING over the Ohio Conference figures, East Liverpool's Nick Musuraca is fourth among the individual rushing leaders with a net of 820 yards and ranks fifth in scoring showing 72 points.

THIS IS the last prediction of the 1960 football season. As much as we would like to see an upset tonight at Patterson Field, it looks like the finger will point to Alliance in the grand finale.

Alliance has been playing the roughest competition all season. The Potters have too, but King hasn't been stopped yet. It looks like Alliance 28, East Liverpool 14.

In one other game, Columbiana and Louisville tangle. The Clippers have been going down hill lately. We like Louisville 14-6.

MERRILL HALL, athletic director at East Liverpool High School, will enter University Hospital at Columbus Monday for an operation on an Achilles tendon.

5,500 Expected For Clash; Alliance Is Heavy Favorite

An upset is foremost in the minds of the East Liverpool Potters as they await the appearance of third-ranked Alliance at Patterson Field tonight. Kickoff time for the final game of the 1960 season is 7:45.

The largest crowd of the season is expected and the attendance figure may hit 5,500.

Tonight's contest marks the final appearance on the local gridiron for 13 East Liverpool seniors. They are Kenny Cunningham, John Goodballet, Tim Archer, Mike Geon, Skip Hall, Joe Smith, Glenn Mays, Larry Crook, Gary Montgomery, Craig O'Neil, Dave Couch, Joe Thompson, and Bud Myers.

Coach Lou Venditti's Potters will be seeking their seventh victory of the season. East Liverpool goes into tonight's game with a 6-4 record and the contest marks the first time an ELHS team has ever played an 11-game schedule.

Alliance is on the rebound after being upset, 16-14 at the hands of Niles, which jumped into second place ahead of the Aviators this week in the Ohio High School poll.

Alliance has met the top teams in Ohio and was just nipped by Massillon, 14-10, earlier in the season. Mel Knowlton, the 1958 coach of the year in Ohio, has led his team to an 8-2 record so far this campaign.

East Liverpool has dropped the last three contests to Alliance, losing last season, 14-8; 52-0 in 1958 and 19-12 in 1957. The Potters picked up a 35-12 victory in 1956.

Corraling the fleet Charlie King, labeled the best halfback ever to come out of Alliance High School, is the No. 1 problem confronting the Potters tonight.

Nobody has stopped the 175-pound speedster so far this season and he has chalked up a total of 136 points to lead Stark County, the hotbed of Ohio football.

King only needs 8 points to tie the school record set by Tom Barnett, the Purdue University and Pittsburgh Steeler standout.

King, a senior, has scored 19 touchdowns and has gained 1,068 yards.

If King isn't running, the Potters will have to watch the passing of Bob Wallace, rated the best from the Stark County area.

Wallace has hit on 50 per cent of his passes this season and 10 have gone for touchdowns. Through the air, the Alliance quarterback has netted 1,008 yards.

Only one underclassman will be in the starting lineup for the Potters. Allen Douglas, a junior, and sophomore Tom Kraft will be alternating at left halfback. The remainder of the offensive squad are seniors, including Geon and Archer at ends, Smith and Hall at tackles, Crook and Mays at guards and Montgomery at center.

While King only needs 8 points to break an Alliance High School scoring record, Cunningham needs only 15 yards to better a passing mark set by Bernie Allen now of Purdue in the 1956 season.

Cunningham, who has fired for 10 touchdown passes, is only two yards away from going over the 1,000-yard mark.

ELHS Band In Final Appearance Tonight

A satire on late movies entitled "The Late, Late Show" will be presented by the East Liverpool High School band which will also make its final appearance of the season tonight at halftime of the Potter-Alliance game. The show will also be in honor of the senior members of the band and a "sneak preview" of next year's band will be staged. The final part of the show will be the playing of the alma mater by senior members only.

Kill Million Pheasants

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan pheasant hunters killed slightly more than one million birds during the past season, State Conservation Department game experts estimate. Last year the kill dropped below the one-million mark for the first time in five years.

Weirton To Meet Nitro In W.Va. Grid Playoff

By The Associated Press

Quite a few of the best in West Virginia scholastic football business will get together at three locations tomorrow to decide just who is who.

Kickoff time in all instances is 1:30 p. m. And the admisson will be the same—75 cents for students and $1.75 for adults.

At Parkersburg, two-time playoff winner Weirton will try to make it three in Class AAA by taking on Nitro, a newcomer to this type of exhibition.

Mount Hope will attempt to make the top of the AA class at Logan, playing Williamson, another eleven making its initial appearance in a playoff.

A veteran in the main show, Winfield, will go after the Class A crown at Hinton playing Alderson, whose last playoff engagement was in 1948.

Weirton finished the regular 1960 season with an official rating of 15.35. Nitro had 14.00. The Red Riders from upstate beat Milton 27-13 in the 1949 playoff and got by Fairmont West 19-13 in 1957. They also were handed the crown in 1942 by West Virginia sports writers, who did the selecting before the rating system went into effect in 1947.

Weirton will go into the game with a 9-1 season record, losing only to Wheeling 18-14. The Riders polished off the year with a 45-0 walloping of Parkersburg to emphasize they have power to spare.

Nitro will be no push-over. The Kanawha Valley machine has a 10-0 record, made possible by ball control and an effective single-wing attack.

3 From Purcell's Are Among 11 On All-Star Roster

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three players from unbeaten-untied Cincinnati Purcell were among 11 nominated Thursday night by the Southwestern Ohio High School Coaches Association to represent the South in the annual North-South all-star football game next summer.

It also was announced Purcell coach Paul Misali will coach the South team.

Players from the Dayton-Hamilton-Middletown area will be nominated later and then a vote will be taken to determine the makeup of the squad.

Nominated from Purcell were tackle Tom Kiehfuss, center Bob Wortman and guard Frank Lawhorn. Other nominees were end Terry Rogers and quarterback Steve Tensi from Cincinnati Elder; end Jim Yates and guard Ed Stricker, Deer Park; tackle John Frick, Wyoming; halfback Al Nelson, Cincinnati Taft; halfback Jerry Walker, Sycamore, and fullback Mel Anthony, Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

FIGHT RESULTS

Annual Kiwanis Event

6 Teams In Cage Preview At Wellsville On Dec. 1

Pairings were made Thursday for the annual Kiwanis Club basketball preview which will be held at the Beacom Memorial Gym in Wellsville this year.

Six teams were represented at a dinner in Wellsville when the schedule for the Dec. 1 event was set up.

Six games will be played with each team playing two eight-minute quarters. Wellsville, East Liverpool, Toronto, Stanton Local, Steubenville Central and Jefferson Union were matched.

Wellsville and Toronto will open the preview at 7:30 p. m., with Toronto coming back to meet Jefferson Union in the second game.

Twenty minutes will be allowed for each quarter, including the warm-up time.

The third contest of the evening will pit Jefferson Union against Steubenville Central while Central stays on the floor to meet East Liverpool in the second contest.

The Potters will face Stanton Local in their second game. Wellsville and Stanton Local wind up the affair in the finale.

The preview is sponsored annually by the Kiwanis Clubs of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Toronto.

13 Potter Seniors Play In Finale Tonight

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Alliance Coach Worried? . . .

"Unless our attitude changes, we are likely to get beat," Alliance Coach Mel Knowlton said earlier this week when looking to the game with East Liverpool tonight.

The feeling up Alliance way is that the season ended last week when the Aviators kicked the Ohio championship out the door by losing to Niles in a tough one, 16-14.

The Aviators have been battling the best in the state. They were in front of Massillon in the second half, but the Tigers came back to win a close one, 14-10.

The East Liverpool - Alliance game has always been an attractive one, but tonight's crowd at Patterson Field would have been greater if the Aviators would have won last week.

Losing to Niles took some of the luster off the clash. Alliance would have been pressing Massillon for first place in the state and the Aviator fans would have followed the team here in larger numbers.

Now Alliance is only attempting to protect its No. 3 rating in the state.

Alliance received 2,040 tickets for tonight's game, but the ticket manager there said late Thursday that only 1,500 had been sold. "We'll have our faithful 1,500," he said.

TWO ALLIANCE scouts were caught Tuesday looking in on the Potters' practice session at Patterson Field.

They were in a car looking down on the drills with field glasses and making charts of Potter plays.

Pro Football Seeks Allen . . .

IF THE post office at Lafayette, Ind., is getting an extra run on mail lately it is probably because of Bernie Allen.

Professional football teams have been writing Allen along with major league baseball clubs. While Bernie has had his sights set on a career in professional baseball, maybe a lucrative offer from the pro gridiron will change his mind.

The basketball coach at Purdue also has asked Allen to come out for the Boilermaker cage squad after football is over.

Allen winds up an outstanding gridiron career at the Big 10 school Saturday when Purdue plays host to Indiana.

Bernie broke into the Purdue lineup as a sophomore and has been a mainstay ever since. He also has earned two varsity letters in baseball.

Beaver Local Vs. Wellsville? . . .

Relations between Wellsville and Beaver Local aren't too good at the present time and both schools are considering abandoning their game next season.

A two year home-and-home contract ended with the Nov. 4 game this season.

Beaver Local school officials and fans said the incident which soured them was an announcement made on the public address system before the game two weeks ago at Wellsville. It said the Wellsville loss in 1959 was the result of "poor officiating" at Beaver Local.

There are two sides to every story. However, by not scheduling one another, the schools are depriving themselves of a good gate. The game at Wellsville drew over 3,000 this year.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

DAVE BROOKS, the former all-state basketball player from Chester, will help inaugurate the new $600,000 gymnasium at Malone College in Canton on Saturday.

Brooks will be in the starting lineup for Malone in its opener against Indian Tech. He was a regular on the Canton five last season.

LOOKING over the Ohio Conference figures, East Liverpool's Nick Musuraca is fourth among the individual rushing leaders with a net of 820 yards and ranks fifth in scoring showing 72 points.

56 Players Made Available For Two New Clubs In AL

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The beleaguered American League, determined to go through with its plans to expand to 10 teams next year, today made available 56 players to be sold to the two new clubs—Washington and Los Angeles—for an aggregate $4,200,000.

League President Joe Cronin, after awarding the Washington franchise to a 10-man syndicate headed by E R. Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, said Thursday night a new club would definitely be placed in Los Angeles.

Hank Greenberg, who had been expected to head an operating syndicate in Los Angeles, bowed out, presumably because of Commissioner Ford Frick's insistence that "equitable" indemnity be paid to Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, for damages accrued in his pioneering effort in the West Coast.

Cronin was certain the league would have no difficulty in selecting a suitable group for Los Angeles to round out the 10-team league. The league, after an all-day meeting Thursday, was scheduled to reconvene today. "I know several people who are interested in obtaining a franchise and I expect some of them to be present at the meeting," said Cronin. "We will entertain bids then."

So certain were the American League club owners of playing in Washington and Los Angeles in 1961 that they spelled out a plan to stock each new club with 28 men from the current 40-man rosters of old clubs.

Each of the eight incumbents was obliged to designate a list of 15 players, seven of whom must have been on the club's active roster last Aug. 31.

Each club is required to sell seven players, at $75,000 per player. No more than four can be taken from one club by any one of the two new teams. All purchases must be made before midnight, Nov. 20. At the end of the player sale, each of the two new clubs will have purchased 28 players at a cost of $2,100,000.

In addition to the stockpile from its own league, each new club will be permitted to select two minor leaguers at $25,000 each after the completion of the annual minor league draft Nov. 28 at Louisville. Added to this total of 30, eight more may be purchased for $25,000 by each of the newcomers from each of the American league club's farm system. That will give each of the new entries 38 players.

Although speaking in guarded tones, Cronin made it plain his league was angered by what he termed a "sudden change of heart" by Commissioner Frick.

"On October 26," Cronin said, "being aware of the commissioner's position declaring Los Angeles and New York open cities, the American League voted to expand to 10 teams in 1961. Now we come here and find that he apparently has changed his position."

Syracuse's disposition toward playing in a postseason football bowl game, presumably the Liberty or Gotham, will be spelled out tonight by the results of its game against the Miami Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl.

The defending national champions, 6-2 this year, have invitations from both bowl committees and have promised a decision after it finishes its season against the Hurricanes.

Memphis State (7-2) plays Mississippi Southern (5-3) in another Friday night game.

There is talk of bowls, conference titles and maybe a national college champion in Saturday's action, the last full Saturday of the 1960 season.

Missouri, ranked first in the current Associated Press poll with a 9-0 record, closes its season against Kansas (6-2-1) as the two battle for the Big Eight title.

The Tigers already have nailed down an Orange Bowl berth since the Jayhawks are banned by the NCAA from postseason play.

What is also in the minds of the Missourians (so much so that Coach Dan Devine says his troops "are becoming nervous) is the fact that a victory almost assures them of staying atop the AP poll, and permanent residency there for the remainder of the season means the national title.

Iowa, ranked second, goes against Notre Dame (1-7). Iowa (7-1) has lost only to Minnesota, and has clinched at least a tie for the Big Ten title.

A Minnesota (7-1) loss to Wisconsin (4-4) would give the Hawkeyes the conference crown and a possible trip to meet Washington's Huskies in the Rose Bowl.

The Huskies (No. 5) have already clinched the Big Five title and will probably make a formal acceptance next week to defend their Bowl title. Saturday they meet Washington State (4-4-1).

Duke (7-1), sixth-ranked, can nail down the Atlantic Coast Conference crown if it beats North Carolina (1-7).

Seventh-ranked Arkansas (7-2) needs only beat Texas Tech to get the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, and at least a share of the Southwest Conference title.

In other games involving the top ranked teams, Auburn (7-1), ranked ninth, meets Florida State while 10th ranked Ohio State (6-2) faces Michigan (5-3). Mississippi, ranked third, and Navy (No. 8) are idle. The Middies are prepping for their big game against Army next week.

Yale (8-0) goes after its first perfect season since 1923 in its finale against Harvard (5-3). This game is televised (1:30 Eastern Standard Time, ABC-TV).

Jofre Favored Tonight To Win Bantam Title

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio drops the curtain on its collegiate football campaign Saturday with a 12-game program involving 17 of the Buckeye teams.

The big ones are Michigan at Ohio State, the 57th between the ancient rivals, and Southern Illinois at Ohio University where plenty is at stake.

The Athens Bobcats will be after their first 10-game clean season in 55 years, along with the national smaller college championship, in the clash with the Illinois team. The invaders have an 8-1 record, having bowed only to Bowling Green by 27-6.

Clyde Thomas, sophomore halfback from Bellaire who was injured in the 14-7 victory over Bowling Green last Saturday, in which the Bobcats grabbed the Mid-American championship, will not play. His berth will be handled by senior John Dickason.

Ohio State goes into the Michigan fray with a 6-2 record against the Wolverine 5-3 mark, but season records and statistics mean little when these foes battle it out. Ohio State will be on the rebound from last week's 35-12 drubbing by Iowa which shunted the Bucks out of the Big Ten title picture, and they're ready to wind things up with a flourish.

But Michigan, gunning for its most successful season since 1956, also will be high. Two Ohio backfielders, sophs Dave Raimey of Dayton and Dave Glinka of Toledo, spearhead the Wolverine attack.

The Wolverine defense has allowed more than two touchdowns only once this year—to Michigan State—but Ohio's attack is probably the most potent they've glimpsed. With Tom Matte running and passing from his quarterback spot, and fullback Bob Ferguson banging away at the line, the Bucks offer a stern test. The kickoff is at 1:30 p.m., and at least 82,500 will be there to see it.

The Ohio Conference championship will be decided Saturday, too.

Muskingum, only unbeaten team in the 14-college circuit, can wrap it up by beating Mount Union, and Ohio Wesleyan can take second by downing Denison. If Muskingum loses and Wesleyan wins, they split the laurels. If both lose, Muskingum grabs the championship, with Otterbein and Wittenberg, both idle, taking the runner-up spot.

Michigan (5-3) vs Ohio State (6-2), Muskingum (8-0) vs Mount Union (3-5), Wooster (5-3) vs Oberlin (4-3), Denison (6-2) vs Ohio Wesleyan (6-2), Xavier (5-4) vs Villanova, Miami (4-5) vs Cincinnati (4-5), Grove City vs Hiram (0-6-1), Kent State (5-3) vs Dayton (1-8), Southern Illinois (8-1) vs Ohio University (9-0), Southern Connecticut State vs Baldwin-Wallace (4-3-1), Central State (6-2) vs Bluefield, W.Va., and Bowling Green (7-1) vs Texas Western (night).

Weather Can Put Mitchell On Sidelines

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bobby Mitchell, fancy-stepping halfback of the Cleveland Browns, doesn't think sloppy and frozen gridirons hamper him any more than they do any other runner in the National Football League.

Coach Paul Brown, who apparently thinks otherwise, has rookie Prentice Gautt, the hard-hitting halfback from Oklahoma, sharing the backfield assignment this week.

Mitchell is on his way to his best NFL season, and he hopes he will be able to stay in the game no matter what the weather conditions are.

Bobby leads the team in scoring with nine touchdowns for 54 points. His total for all of last season was 60 points. He has an average of 5.1 yards per carry, fourth highest in the NFL.

Brown remarked that Guatt is a heavier runner and Mitchell seems to have troubles late in the season. He noted that Bobby's biggest problem seems to be in handling the ball. "Only he can testify that," the coach remarked.

Mitchell agreed that he may not have been gripping the ball tightly enough. Speaking of his two fumbles against the St. Louis Cardinals last Sunday, Bobby said:

The left halfback says he likes to carry the ball early in the game. "Then I'm relaxed. If I don't carry anytime in the first quarter, I'm tense through the whole ball game."

Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers Mitchell will be trying to convince Brown that he would be wrong to sideline the speedy halfback in the latter part of the season, as he did two seasns ago.

Michigan, OSU Brings Memory Of Blizzard Bowl Played In 1950

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As Ohio State and Michigan prepare to renew their ancient football rivalry Saturday, many memories of past encounters stir fans of the two schools. But none more vivid than their "Blizzard Bowl" battle, just 10 years ago.

Ohio's giant horseshoe stadium was the scene of one of the most improbable football games ever staged on any gridiron.

But Michigan won the game 9 to 3, and with it the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid.

The temperature was near zero. A 28-mile wind was blowing. Ice-covered snow several inches deep hid the gridiron. There were no yard lines. Sports writers in the press box couldn't see the playing field at times.

Some 50,000 fans—out of some 80,000 ticket holders—braved the elements, but saw little of the play as the athletes appeared and disappeared in the heavy, swirling snow.

Ohio State coach Wesley Fesler wanted to call off the game. So did Bennie Oosterbaan, the Wolverine mentor. Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic chief, said it would be unfair to the assembled fans to cancel the fray.

Ohio State athletic director Dick Larkins finally made the decision. "We'll play it," he said. "We don't want to back into the championship."

Had the game not been played, the Bucks would have taken the title, but couldn't have gone to the Rose Bowl since Fesler's team had been there the year before.

In the early stages of the game, Ohio's All-America Vic Janowicz faded back for a pass, couldn't find a receiver in the heavy snow, and finally threw into the end zone from near the Michigan 20. Officials tagged him for intentionally grounding the pass, and the Bucks were back on the 35. Janowicz hit Tom Watson with a pass to the 21, then booted a fourth-down field goal from the 27 for all of Ohio's points.

Michigan then came up with an unusual decision, deciding to kick instead of receiving the ensuing kickoff. It paid off, for it locked Ohio deep in its own territory and late in the period Janowicz tried to punt from his own 3, only to have it blocked.

In the second session Ohio was backed up against its own 11-yard line, with less than a minute to go. Janowicz and Walt Klevay gained a yard each, trying to run out the clock, but each time Michigan called time out. With 20 seconds to go, Ohio decided to punt on third down.

Janowicz tried to boot from the end zone, but Michigan's Tony Momsen broke through, blocked the kick, and fell on it for a touchdown. The extra point was good, and Michigan had all it needed, 9-3, as no one came close to scoring in the last half.

Two weeks later Fesler resigned, declaring the tension caused by the tremendous desire to win games at Ohio State was affecting his health. That brought in Coach Woody Hayes, who has a 5-4 record against the Wolves going into Saturday's game.

Wilt Terrible At Foul Line As Warriors Lose

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dolph Schayes, the National Basketball Association's all-time scorer, charged today that "any high school kid could do better" than Wilt Chamberlain's poor 9-for-27 at the foul line Thursday night.

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 star of the Philadelphia Warriors, missed 18 foul shots as the Warriors lost to Schayes and the Syracuse Nats, 106-105. His 27 attempts tied an NBA record, as he scored 45 points.

"It's ridiculous he missed so many," said Schayes. "But thank God he did. Any high school kid could do better than that and this guy is a pro making several thousand dollars.

"All he has to do is practice a little. If he practiced 100 shots every day for a month he'd be twice as good as he is. He obviously has no confidence."

"Confidence, which comes from constant practice over the years, is 90 per cent of the battle," the 32-year-old star forward said after he had sunk eight field goals and six of seven free throws for 22 points in the victory over the Philadelphia Warriors.

Meanwhile, as the Warriors' losing streak continued, Detroit had its winning streak snapped at four games. In the opener of the Convention Hall doubleheader, Detroit dropped a 112-105 contest to St. Louis, Western Division leader. Bob Pettit, Clyde Lovellette and Cliff Hagan each scored 26 points for St. Louis while Pettit chipped in with 31 rebounds. High man for Detroit was Gene Shue with 25 points.

Horvath Sets Record As Youngstown Wins

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Sophomore Frank Horvath set a school rushing record Thursday night in leading Youngstown University to a 34-21 football victory over Akron University.

The 190-pound speedster gained 134 yards in 23 carries to push his total for the season to 1,010. That broke the record of 940 yards set in 1957 by Dave Kimmel.

Horvath scored three touchdowns on runs of 29 and 5 yards and a 53-yard pass play and threw a pass for extra points.

The game was the last of the season for both teams. Youngstown wound up with a 6-2 won-lost record, Akron 1-8.

56 Players Made Available For Two New Clubs In AL

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The beleaguered American League, determined to go through with its plans to expand to 10 teams next year, today made available 56 players to be sold to the two new clubs—Washington and Los Angeles—for an aggregate $4,200,000.

League President Joe Cronin, after awarding the Washington franchise to a 10-man syndicate headed by E.R. Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, said Thursday night a new club would definitely be placed in Los Angeles.

Hank Greenberg, who had been expected to head an operating syndicate in Los Angeles, bowed out, presumably because of Commissioner Ford Frick's insistence that "equitable" indemnity be paid to Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, for damages accrued in his pioneering effort in the West Coast.

Cronin was certain the league would have no difficulty in selecting a suitable group for Los Angeles to round out the 10-team league. The league, after an all-day meeting Thursday, was scheduled to reconvene today. "I know several people who are interested in obtaining a franchise and I expect some of them to be present at the meeting," said Cronin. "We will entertain bids then."

So certain were the American League club owners of playing in Washington and Los Angeles in 1961 that they spelled out a plan to stock each new club with 28 men from the current 40-man rosters of old clubs.

Each of the eight incumbents was obliged to designate a list of 15 players, seven of whom must have been on the club's active roster last Aug. 31.

Each club is required to sell seven players, at $75,000 per player. No more than four can be taken from one club by any one of the two new teams. All purchases must be made before midnight, Nov. 20. At the end of the player sale, each of the two new clubs will have purchased 28 players at a cost of $2,100,000.

In addition to the stockpile from its own league, each new club will be permitted to select two minor leaguers at $25,000 each after the completion of the annual minor league draft Nov. 28 at Louisville. Added to this total of 30, eight more may be purchased for $25,000 by each of the newcomers from each of the American league club's farm system. That will give each of the new entries 38 players.

Although speaking in guarded tones, Cronin made it plain his league was angered by what he termed a "sudden change of heart" by Commissioner Frick.

"On October 26," Cronin said, "being aware of the commissioner's position declaring Los Angeles and New York open cities, the American League voted to expand to 10 teams in 1961. Now we come here and find that he apparently has changed his position."

Two weeks later Fesler resigned, declaring the tension caused by the tremendous desire to win games at Ohio State was affecting his health. That brought in Coach Woody Hayes, who has a 5-4 record against the Wolves going into Saturday's game.

Wilt Terrible At Foul Line As Warriors Lose

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dolph Schayes, the National Basketball Association's all-time scorer, charged today that "any high school kid could do better" than Wilt Chamberlain's poor 9-for-27 at the foul line Thursday night.

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 star of the Philadelphia Warriors, missed 18 foul shots as the Warriors lost to Schayes and the Syracuse Nats, 106-105. His 27 attempts tied an NBA record, as he scored 45 points.

"It's ridiculous he missed so many," said Schayes. "But thank God he did. Any high school kid could do better than that and this guy is a pro making several thousand dollars.

"All he has to do is practice a little. If he practiced 100 shots every day for a month he'd be twice as good as he is. He obviously has no confidence."

"Confidence, which comes from constant practice over the years, is 90 per cent of the battle," the 32-year-old star forward said after he had sunk eight field goals and six of seven free throws for 22 points in the victory over the Philadelphia Warriors.

Meanwhile, as the Warriors' losing streak continued, Detroit had its winning streak snapped at four games. In the opener of the Convention Hall doubleheader, Detroit dropped a 112-105 contest to St. Louis, Western Division leader. Bob Pettit, Clyde Lovellette and Cliff Hagan each scored 26 points for St. Louis while Pettit chipped in with 31 rebounds. High man for Detroit was Gene Shue with 25 points.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Orlando Cepeda, young San Francisco Giants' slugger, said here that he plans to get married in Puerto Rico Dec. 4. He declined to name his fiancee.

Horvath Sets Record As Youngstown Wins

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Sophomore Frank Horvath set a school rushing record Thursday night in leading Youngstown University to a 34-21 football victory over Akron University.

The 190-pound speedster gained 134 yards in 23 carries to push his total for the season to 1,010. That broke the record of 940 yards set in 1957 by Dave Kimmel.

Horvath scored three touchdowns on runs of 29 and 5 yards and a 53-yard pass play and threw a pass for extra points.

Two fumbles by the Penguins set up Akron touchdowns in the last four minutes of the game.

The game was the last of the season for both teams. Youngstown wound up with a 6-2 won-lost record, Akron 1-8.

Bares Tax Collections

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Finance Director Abe Harshman reports $4,096,000 has been collected to date under this city's income tax. Harshman hopes the total will reach $4.2 million by Jan. 1, which would provide a $400,000 general fund balance. This figure is included in the city's proposed $15,129,057 budget for 1961.

Welch Composer Dies

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—John Lloyd Jones, 83, Welsh composer, died Thursday at his home.

Machine Firm Struck

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Fore & Machine Corp. was struck Thursday by 80 members of the Mechanics Educational Society of America. However, about 150 members of two other unions continued working. The company said it had been notified by Local 26 of the mechanics' union that three unresolved grievances caused the strike. A federal conciliator said he is trying to arrange a meeting.

Few At Airing Of Land Plans

Only seven were in the audience at a special meeting of Midland Borough Council Thursday evening for a public hearing on a new land subdivision ordinance and regulations.

Several members of the Planning Commission, who had conducted a second public hearing on a zoning ordinance earlier in the evening, were present.

James R. Woglom of Morris Knowles, Inc., planning engineers of Pittsburgh, was present to offer explanations at both meetings. Land subdivision regulations and its ordinance concern any land within the borough which an owner would divide into lots.

Regulations concern any necessary streets, sewers, etc. the subdivision would need which the subdivider must furnish. Specifications are listed. Copies of the ordinance will be available for the public. In several instances in the past, the borough had to improve subdivided land.

Since this was Council's public hearing on the land ordinance, it may now be adopted after the required three readings. It is a new ordinance which the borough has not had though some 250 to 300 cities in the state do have one.

Woglom said the borough's comprehensive plan is being printed and should be ready before Christmas. About 50 copies will be sent the borough.

The new zoning ordinance is similar to the old ordinance and has few changes. Where there are changes, they will go into effect when present buildings are torn down and any are bulit. The ordinance divides the borough into zones similar to the old ordinance.

Officers Elected For Palsy Group

New officers of the Parental Group of the Cerebral Palsy Association were elected at a coverdish dinner meeting Wednesday evening in the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Some 40 attended. Assisting and helping to entertain children were two members of the Key Club, Bill Krieger and Bob Gilmore. Mrs. Gahran, retiring president, presided for brief business.

Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 17 from 6 to 8 p. m. Next meeting is Dec. 14 at 7:30 p. m.

2 Boys Cited In Fire

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief George Neiss of Niles said two boys have been turned over to juvenile authorities in connection with a $50,000 fire Nov. 6 at Rose Lumber & Supply, Inc., in Niles. Neiss said the boys, ages 7 and 10, admitted starting the fire in a rubbish pile after finding a book of matches.

Instruction Begins

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Classroom instruction begins today at Walsh College, a non-resident school for men, which opened Thursday. The school, named for Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Catholic diocese, enrolled 65 freshmen.

At Tea In Pughtown

Farm Women Induct New Officers

Officers of the Hancock County Farm Women's Council were elected and installed at an Achievement Day tea Wednesday at the Fairview Grange Hall in Pughtown. About 40 attended.

Committees to serve next year also were announced. The committees and chairmen include projects, Mrs. Wayland Lancaster; citizenship, Mrs. Chapman; education, Mrs. Raymond Walker; homes and housing, Mrs. John Wright; health and nutrition, Mrs. Rudy Strauss; family life, Mrs. Fred Harper and Mrs. Harold Jividen; safety, Mrs. Hilary Johnston; social, Mrs. Bertha Moore, and membership, Mrs. John Village.

Awards were presented to clubs and individuals for their accomplishments by Miss Helen Petrakis, 4-H Club agent. The achievements committee included Mrs. Lancaster; Mrs. John Simms, Mrs. K. R. Timberlake; Mrs. Gussie Rice, Mrs. Earl Dennis, Mrs. Dale Moore and Mrs. Donald Glenn.

The theme of the meeting was "Life Values Grow In the Home." Mrs. Emma Noe, Brooke County home demonstration agent, was principal speaker.

Mrs. Nelson presided and devotions were directed by the Grandview Club. George Wilkinson of East Liverpool was the devotion speaker.

Phone Representative Talks To Nurse Group

Mrs. Wilma Minor, president, conducted business. Miss Isabelle Hinton, staff nurse for the Weirton Steel Co., was named delegate to the professional standards committee meeting of the American Association of Industrial Nurses Saturday at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Ruby Webb of the Hall China Co. was present. Weirton Steel nurses will be hostesses for the Christmas party to follow the dinner meeting Dec. 20 at the hotel.

To Aid Stroke Victims

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A new health restoration service for stroke victims will be offered in Erie and Sandusky counties by their health departments, Dr. Emmett Arnold, city - county health commissioner, announced Thursday. He said the program will cost an estimated $8,800 annually and is being financed by a federal grant made available through the Ohio Department of Health.

Arguments Set Dec. 2

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Oral arguments will be heard Dec. 2 in the Ohio Supreme Court in a case stemming from the second-degree murder conviction of Ellis Patterson Jr. of Canton. Patterson and James Bradley Jr., of Canton were indicted jointly on the murder charge after a drag race Sept. 12, 1959, in which three persons were killed. An appellate court reversed Patterson's conviction and ordered a new trial. The state is appealing that ruling, and arguments on the appeal will be heard by the state's highest court.

Bares Tax Collections

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Finance Director Abe Harshman reports $4,096,000 has been collected to date under this city's income tax. Harshman hopes the total will reach $4.2 million by Jan. 1, which would provide a $400,000 general fund balance. This figure is included in the city's proposed $15,129,057 budget for 1961.

Machine Firm Struck

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Fore & Machine Corp. was struck Thursday by 80 members of the Mechanics Educational Society of America. However, about 150 members of two other unions continued working. The company said it had been notified by Local 26 of the mechanics' union that three unresolved grievances caused the strike. A federal conciliator said he is trying to arrange a meeting.

Few At Airing Of Land Plans

Only seven were in the audience at a special meeting of Midland Borough Council Thursday evening for a public hearing on a new land subdivision ordinance and regulations.

Several members of the Planning Commission, who had conducted a second public hearing on a zoning ordinance earlier in the evening, were present.

James R. Woglom of Morris Knowles, Inc., planning engineers of Pittsburgh, was present to offer explanations at both meetings. Land subdivision regulations and its ordinance concern any land within the borough which an owner would divide into lots.

Regulations concern any necessary streets, sewers, etc. the subdivision would need which the subdivider must furnish. Specifications are listed. Copies of the ordinance will be available for the public. In several instances in the past, the borough had to improve subdivided land.

Since this was Council's public hearing on the land ordinance, it may now be adopted after the required three readings. It is a new ordinance which the borough has not had though some 250 to 300 cities in the state do have one.

Woglom said the borough's comprehensive plan is being printed and should be ready before Christmas. About 50 copies will be sent the borough.

The new zoning ordinance is similar to the old ordinance and has few changes. Where there are changes, they will go into effect when present buildings are torn down and any are bulit. The ordinance divides the borough into zones similar to the old ordinance.

Council will receive the zoning ordinance from the Planning Commission and hold a public hearing probably after the first of the year before adopting it.

Officers Elected For Palsy Group

New officers of the Parental Group of the Cerebral Palsy Association were elected at a coverdish dinner meeting Wednesday evening in the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Some 40 attended. Assisting and helping to entertain children were two members of the Key Club, Bill Krieger and Bob Gilmore. Mrs. Gahran, retiring president, presided for brief business.

Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 17 from 6 to 8 p. m. Next meeting is Dec. 14 at 7:30 p. m.

2 Boys Cited In Fire

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief George Neiss of Niles said two boys have been turned over to juvenile authorities in connection with a $50,000 fire Nov. 6 at Rose Lumber & Supply, Inc., in Niles. Neiss said the boys, ages 7 and 10, admitted starting the fire in a rubbish pile after finding a book of matches.

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Classroom instruction begins today at Walsh College, a non-resident school for men, which opened Thursday. The school, named for Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Catholic diocese, enrolled 65 freshmen.

At Tea In Pughtown

Farm Women Induct New Officers

Officers of the Hancock County Farm Women's Council were elected and installed at an Achievement Day tea Wednesday at the Fairview Grange Hall in Pughtown. About 40 attended.

The officers, who were presented with corsages, were installed by Mrs. Chapman.

Committees to serve next year also were announced. The committees and chairmen include projects, Mrs. Wayland Lancaster; citizenship, Mrs. Chapman; education, Mrs. Raymond Walker; homes and housing, Mrs. John Wright; health and nutrition, Mrs. Rudy Strauss; family life, Mrs. Fred Harper and Mrs. Harold Jividen; safety, Mrs. Hilary Johnston; social, Mrs. Bertha Moore, and membership, Mrs. John Village.

The Fairview Club of Pughtown was named as chairman group for the 1961 Christmas ideas tea.

Awards were presented to clubs and individuals for their accomplishments by Miss Helen Petrakis, 4-H Club agent. The achievements committee included Mrs. Lancaster; Mrs. John Simms, Mrs. K. R. Timberlake; Mrs. Gussie Rice, Mrs. Earl Dennis, Mrs. Dale Moore and Mrs. Donald Glenn.

The theme of the meeting was "Life Values Grow In the Home." Mrs. Emma Noe, Brooke County home demonstration agent, was principal speaker.

Mrs. Nelson presided and devotions were directed by the Grandview Club. George Wilkinson of East Liverpool was the devotion speaker.

Phone Representative Talks To Nurse Group

Discussing "Your Voice Is Yours", she demonstrated ways of improving the voice when answering the phone.

Mrs. Wilma Minor, president, conducted business. Miss Isabelle Hinton, staff nurse for the Weirton Steel Co., was named delegate to the professional standards committee meeting of the American Association of Industrial Nurses Saturday at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Ruby Webb of the Hall China Co. was present. Weirton Steel nurses will be hostesses for the Christmas party to follow the dinner meeting Dec. 20 at the hotel.

To Aid Stroke Victims

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A new health restoration service for stroke victims will be offered in Erie and Sandusky counties by their health departments, Dr. Emmett Arnold, city - county health commissioner, announced Thursday. He said the program will cost an estimated $8,800 annually and is being financed by a federal grant made available through the Ohio Department of Health.

Arguments Set Dec. 2

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Oral arguments will be heard Dec. 2 in the Ohio Supreme Court in a case stemming from the second-degree murder conviction of Ellis Patterson Jr. of Canton. Patterson and James Bradley Jr., of Canton were indicted jointly on the murder charge after a drag race Sept. 12, 1959, in which three persons were killed. An appellate court reversed Patterson's conviction and ordered a new trial. The state is appealing that ruling, and arguments on the appeal will be heard by the state's highest court.

4-H News

Twelve members of the Fairfield Township 4-H committee met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wassink to discuss the program in the township. Bill Rymer led a discussion on the need for additional clubs.

Formation of a new boys' club in Columbiana and a tractor club for the area is planned with Mrs. Robert Barnes and Gary Wilms recruiting advisors. Other advisor problems were discussed with definite plans suggested for the coming year.

Cited For Manslaughter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gene A. McClish, 23, who babysits while his wife works, has been charged with first-degree manslaughter in the death of one of her three children. Detectives said McClish admitted giving his 2-year-old stepson a "hard" spanking Wednesday night. The badly bruised boy, Lee Maynard, was dead on arrival at a hospital a short time later. Coroner Robert Evans said an autopsy showed the child died from internal bleeding caused by a hard blow to the back.

Miller Is Marked Man In Wisconsin Lineup

By The Associated Press

As the Big Ten football season concludes Saturday, the most marked man in the conference undoubtedly will be Wisconsin's sophomore quarterback Ron Miller.

The sensational passer, whose injured ankles now have healed neough for him to use the deceptive option play, is the big worry of the Minnesota Gophers.

Minnesota must win at Wisconsin to gain a co-championship with Iowa. The Hawkeyes, ranked No. 2 in the AP poll, have ended their bid with a 5-1 record, being beaten only by the Gophers, and wind up in a non-conference skirmish at Notre Dame.

The Gophers, ranked No. 4 after Purdue knocked them from the unbeaten list last week, have not won at Madison since 1948. Wisconsin is 2-4 in Big Ten play and 4-4 overall for the season. Last week the Badgers were trounced by Illinois 35-14.

Miller has gained 903 yards to lead the Big Ten in total offense. With a good day against Minnesota he can become the first sophomore in the conference to gain more than 1,000 yards since Minnesota's Paul Giel in 1951.

In other finales, Illinois (2-3) is at Northwestern (1-4), Michigan (2-3) at Ohio State (3-2), Indiana at Purdue for the Old Oaken Bucket battle and Detroit at Michigan State.

Northwestern has been victimized by the Illini for the last three years of their traditional rivalry. Their meeting this time is rated a toss-up with a Northwestern victory squaring the lifetime rivalry at 25 games each. There have been four ties.

Michigan and Ohio State will be tangling for the 57th time in a series fraught with upsets and thrillers. The Wolverines surprised the Buckeyes 23-14 last year and OSU downed its rival 20-14 in their last meeting at Columbus in 1958.

Iowa will be out for an impressive victory at Notre Dame, loser of its last seven starts, with the hope of nailing the No. 1 ranking and an invitation to the Rose Bowl. It will be the last coaching appearance of Iowa's Forest Evashevski unless the team goes to Pasadena.

Savings Clubs Hit $167,687

Two Midland banks and a savings and loan firm announced that checks totaling $167,687.50 were mailed this week to 1,524 participants in Christmas Savings Clubs.

The Midland office of the Beaver Trust Co. mailed checks today totaling $98,600 to 896 members, payable Monday. The club closed Nov. 11 and reopens Nov. 28, Fred J. Wilton, manager said.

The First National Bank mailed checks totaling $62,087.50 to 544 members payable today. The club closed Tuesday and reopens Monday, William Black, assistant cashier, said.

In the Columbiana County Health District, relief included $3,078 for home care and $1,733 for health care. At Wellsville, the total was $1,587—$1,568 for home care and $19 for health care.

East Palestine's total was $465—$180 for home care and $285 for health care.

Study Will Resume

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction is resuming a study to find out how many persons are needed to staff Ohio's mental institutions. The study was begun last spring but was temporarily shelved four months ago. An executive assistant in the department, Glenn E. Morris, says officials hope to have some concrete answers to the study question by next March.

Treadwell Concern Hit By $180,000 Verdict

Federal District Court in Boston has awarded $180,000 damages against the Treadwell Construction Co. of Midland in an arsenal employe's suit for personal injuries suffered 6 years ago while working on an atomic cannon. The firm announced in September it was offering its Midland facilities for sale.

The Midland firm built the cannon. The amount of the damages was set by Chief Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley, who said he believed it to be the largest verdict to an individual in his district.

Joseph Drake, 37, of Boston charged the company with negligence. He was working as a civilian at the Watertown (Mass.) Arsenal in April 1954 when an atomic cannon was brought in from Alaska for repairs.

Housewife Indicted In Bank Loot Case

The government charges that Mrs. Kathryn M. Evans, 50, received $49,400 of the $62,628 taken in the robbery of the First National Bank of Akron.

Her husband, Joseph 55, was sentenced to 18 years in a federal prison last week for his part in carrying out the holdup. He pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Cleveland. Their 16-year-old son, William, faces federal juvenile charges in the same case. FBI agents say the youth told them his father forced him to take part in the robbery.

Commissioners Buy Sheriff Winter Tires

LISBON — County commissioners Thursday let a contract to Paul Adams of East Palestine for 10 tubeless snow tires for the sheriff's department on his low bid of $144.56. Seven other bids were received.

Mrs. Frances Morton was authorized to attend the Ohio Recorders Association convention in Columbus Nov. 30-Dec. 3, and for Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, to attend the committee meeting of the Ohio Welfare Directors Association in Columbus Tuesday.

33 On Salineville List Of Scholars

Second — Deena Owens, Cindy McCully, Ann Johnson, Joanne Henry, Mary Adams, Janice Blackburn, Randy Jones and Terry Leek.

The muzzle-loading rifle could be loaded at the rate of about three times a minute. Its maximum range was about 1,000 yards.

4-H News

Twelve members of the Fairfield Township 4-H committee met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wassink to discuss the program in the township. Bill Rymer led a discussion on the need for additional clubs.

Formation of a new boys' club in Columbiana and a tractor club for the area is planned with Mrs. Robert Barnes and Gary Wilms recruiting advisors. Other advisor problems were discussed with definite plans suggested for the coming year.

Cited For Manslaughter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gene A. McClish, 23, who babysits while his wife works, has been charged with first-degree manslaughter in the death of one of her three children. Detectives said McClish admitted giving his 2-year-old stepson a "hard" spanking Wednesday night. The badly bruised boy, Lee Maynard, was dead on arrival at a hospital a short time later. Coroner Robert Evans said an autopsy showed the child died from internal bleeding caused by a hard blow to the back.

Miller Is Marked Man In Wisconsin Lineup

By The Associated Press

As the Big Ten football season concludes Saturday, the most marked man in the conference undoubtedly will be Wisconsin's sophomore quarterback Ron Miller.

The sensational passer, whose injured ankles now have healed neough for him to use the deceptive option play, is the big worry of the Minnesota Gophers.

Minnesota must win at Wisconsin to gain a co-championship with Iowa. The Hawkeyes, ranked No. 2 in the AP poll, have ended their bid with a 5-1 record, being beaten only by the Gophers, and wind up in a non-conference skirmish at Notre Dame.

The Gophers, ranked No. 4 after Purdue knocked them from the unbeaten list last week, have not won at Madison since 1948. Wisconsin is 2-4 in Big Ten play and 4-4 overall for the season. Last week the Badgers were trounced by Illinois 35-14.

Miller has gained 903 yards to lead the Big Ten in total offense. With a good day against Minnesota he can become the first sophomore in the conference to gain more than 1,000 yards since Minnesota's Paul Giel in 1951.

In other finales, Illinois (2-3) is at Northwestern (1-4), Michigan (2-3) at Ohio State (3-2), Indiana at Purdue for the Old Oaken Bucket battle and Detroit at Michigan State.

Northwestern has been victimized by the Illini for the last three years of their traditional rivalry. Their meeting this time is rated a toss-up with a Northwestern victory squaring the lifetime rivalry at 25 games each. There have been four ties.

Michigan and Ohio State will be tangling for the 57th time in a series fraught with upsets and thrillers. The Wolverines surprised the Buckeyes 23-14 last year and OSU downed its rival 20-14 in their last meeting at Columbus in 1958.

Iowa will be out for an impressive victory at Notre Dame, loser of its last seven starts, with the hope of nailing the No. 1 ranking and an invitation to the Rose Bowl. It will be the last coaching appearance of Iowa's Forest Evashevski unless the team goes to Pasadena.

Savings Clubs Hit $167,687

Two Midland banks and a savings and loan firm announced that checks totaling $167,687.50 were mailed this week to 1,524 participants in Christmas Savings Clubs.

The Midland office of the Beaver Trust Co. mailed checks today totaling $98,600 to 896 members, payable Monday. The club closed Nov. 11 and reopens Nov. 28, Fred J. Wilton, manager said.

The First National Bank mailed checks totaling $62,087.50 to 544 members payable today. The club closed Tuesday and reopens Monday, William Black, assistant cashier, said.

The Dollar Savings & Loan Association mailed checks Tuesday to 84 members totaling $7,000. The club closed Nov. 11 and reopens Monday, L. W. Smith Jr., manager, said.

Hanoverton PTA Has 430 Enrolled

HANOVERTON — A total of 430 members have been enrolled in the United Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Howard Lindesmith, membership chairman, announced.

The school homeroom with the largest representation in the PTA will be cited, Mrs. Lindesmith said.

Appropriations under the PTA budget this year will include $1,350 for school groups—$25 for Boy Scouts, $75 for teachers' tea committee, $100 for PTA program committee, $300 for vocal music department, $200 for band music, $300 for the library, $100 for game equipment, $150 for guidance testing and $100 for a phonograph.

A Christmas musical program will be presented Dec. 15 by the band and chorus.

September's Welfare Aid In City Cost $3,994

General welfare aid in East Liverpool in September amounted to a total of $3,994, the Ohio Department of Public Welfare announced today. The sum included $3,868 for home care and $126 for health care.

In the Columbiana County Health District, relief included $3,078 for home care and $1,733 for health care. At Wellsville, the total was $1,587—$1,568 for home care and $19 for health care.

East Palestine's total was $465—$180 for home care and $285 for health care.

Study Will Resume

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction is resuming a study to find out how many persons are needed to staff Ohio's mental institutions. The study was begun last spring but was temporarily shelved four months ago. An executive assistant in the department, Glenn E. Morris, says officials hope to have some concrete answers to the study question by next March.

Treadwell Concern Hit By $180,000 Verdict

Federal District Court in Boston has awarded $180,000 damages against the Treadwell Construction Co. of Midland in an arsenal employe's suit for personal injuries suffered 6 years ago while working on an atomic cannon. The firm announced in September it was offering its Midland facilities for sale.

The Midland firm built the cannon. The amount of the damages was set by Chief Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley, who said he believed it to be the largest verdict to an individual in his district.

Joseph Drake, 37, of Boston charged the company with negligence. He was working as a civilian at the Watertown (Mass.) Arsenal in April 1954 when an atomic cannon was brought in from Alaska for repairs.

Housewife Indicted In Bank Loot Case

The government charges that Mrs. Kathryn M. Evans, 50, received $49,400 of the $62,628 taken in the robbery of the First National Bank of Akron.

Her husband, Joseph 55, was sentenced to 18 years in a federal prison last week for his part in carrying out the holdup. He pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Cleveland. Their 16-year-old son, William, faces federal juvenile charges in the same case. FBI agents say the youth told them his father forced him to take part in the robbery.

Commissioners Buy Sheriff Winter Tires

LISBON — County commissioners Thursday let a contract to Paul Adams of East Palestine for 10 tubeless snow tires for the sheriff's department on his low bid of $144.56. Seven other bids were received.

Mrs. Frances Morton was authorized to attend the Ohio Recorders Association convention in Columbus Nov. 30-Dec. 3, and for Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, to attend the committee meeting of the Ohio Welfare Directors Association in Columbus Tuesday.

33 On Salineville List Of Scholars

Actor Was Recovering

Gable's Doctors Reveal Second Blood Clot Fatal

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clark Gable's doctors say the actor was recovering from one heart attack when a second blood clot took his life in a matter of seconds.

Details of the famed actor's death were made public Thursday as plans were made to entomb him beside the body of Carole Lombard, the third of his five wives.

Private services will be conducted Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Church of The Recessional at Forest Lawn Memorial Park at nearby Glendale. Only members of the family and close personal friends will attend.

Miss Lombard was killed in a 1942 plane crash. Friends said Gable never quite got over his grief when she died.

The decision to entomb him in Miss Lombard's Forest Lawn crypt was made by his widow, Kay, who is five months pregnant with Gable's first child.

"I thought he was getting along so well," said Dr. George C. Griffith, "that I talked to him Wednesday morning about how he should care for himself during the coming months—and told him there was no need for me to see him again, unless needed."

Dr. Griffith was called in as a consultant by Gable's heart specialist, Dr. Fred V. Cerini. The two physicians said Gable's death Wednesday night resulted from a second blood clot in an artery supplying the back of the heart.

The doctors said that heart tissue damaged in the first attack was healing well, and that Gable, who was 59, had reacted favorably to drugs which reduce the coagulation factor in the blood stream, thus lessening the likelihood of clots.

Cerini said he had entered the actor's room only seconds before Gable died.

"He just flipped his head to one side on the pillow and was gone," Cerini said. "He didn't say anything."

Japan Feels Ike's Orders On Spending

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's booming business world felt a shiver today over President Eisenhower's directives for curtailed overseas spending by the United States.

The Tokyo stock market opened lower all along the line, after reacting indifferently Thursday. Hardest hit were automobiles, exporting firms, steels and other businesses partly supported by U.S. purchasing.

Annexation Ruling Slated

LISBON — A ruling on proposed annexation of some 45 acres of land to Lisbon, aired at a public meeting Thursday, is expected to be given by Columbiana County commissioners next Thursday.

Robert Williams, owner of the tract, is seeking the annexation to obtain water and sewage facilities for a housing project planned for the site north of here and just east of Route 45.

Appearing yesterday as opponents to the annexation were Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webber and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKarns, owners of homes along Route 45 outside the village but using village water and sewer lines.

They said they do not want to be inside the village, both sides of the highway should be annexed if any action is taken and that their children could not ride the school buses, as they are now doing, if the move is made.

Clifford Shaw, Center Township trustee, said he was interested in learning who would assume responsibility for a township road bounding the area if it is annexed. He said the trustees do not care whether the tract is annexed.

New Trial Requested In 'Auto Assault' Case

Counsel for Donald Eugene Saunders, 31, of Wellsburg, convicted in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland of malicious assault of a Waterford Park race track guard, has filed a motion for a new trial.

Judge J. Harold Brennan is expected to rule Nov. 25 on the motion that the verdict be set aside and Saunders be given another trial.

A jury convicted Saunders Wednesday. The trial opened Monday.

East End IOOF Plans Officers Nomination

Final nomination of officers will be held Thursday night, it was announced at a meeting of Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge 880 last night in the East End lodge hall.

The lodge will elect a noble grand, vice grand, recording secretary, financial secretary, treasurer, degree team captain and two members of the relief committee.

Members were urged to attend the District 1-A convention Monday at 7:30 p. m. when W. C. Gifford of Parkersburg, West Virginia grand master, will be a guest of Chester Lodge 245.

It Flew Over Capitol

Cubs Get Historic Flag

A 50-star American flag which once fluttered over the Capitol in Washington was presented by John Wilson of Den 3 to Cub Pack 25 of Chester at the monthly meeting Thursday night in American Legion home.

Eugene Seeley, Boy Scout official, conducted a uniform inspection and gave the pack a rating of "excellent." Displays were on the theme of "Space Age."

Ten cubs received awards for activities. They were:

Mark Cashdollar and Larry Whittington, Cub Scout pins; Frank Amedeo, three silver arrows under wolf; a bear patch, a gold arrow and four silver arrows under bear; Royal Sayres, one gold and one silver arrow under wolf, one gold arrow under lion, and one gold and silver arrow for bear; Jack Burnquist, one gold and two silver arrows for bear and a two-year pin.

John Ludovici, one gold and three silver arrows for lion; Charles Grandstaff, one gold arrow for bear; James Jacobs, one gold arrow under bear; Donald Sayres, lion badge, and Kenneth Flowers, two-year pin.

Mrs. Herbert Grandstaff led games and songs. Glenn Martin led the Pledge of Allegiance. Ferguson presided. Lunch was served 50 by Mrs. James Jacobs and Mrs. John Ludovici.

Man Grabbed From Rooftop By 2 Officers

Two officers climbed onto the rooftop of a St. Clair Ave. home near midnight Thursday to arrest a man who fled there after kicking the headlight out of a neighbor's parked car in retaliation after a fight.

Dale Rice, 930 St. Clair Ave., was removed from the roof by Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolman Milton Fowler, who were answering a complaint that Rice had kicked out the headlight of a car owned by Earl Hayman, 910 St. Clair Ave.

Rice drew two fines totaling $75 and costs today from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who added: "Unfortunately the law doesn't allow me to send you to jail or I would do so without hesitation." The judge noted it was Rice's 10th appearance in court this year.

Rice was fined $50 and costs on a charge of malicious destruction of property and $25 and costs on an intoxication charge. He pleaded guilty to both.

Rice walked past the parked car of his neighbor on his way home and decided to kick out the headlight as retaliation for a "sucker punch" he claimed Hayman had given him Monday. Rice said Hayman struck him behind the ear without warning.

When police arrived, Rice had vanished. The two officers found the doors standing open at Rice's home, but Rice was missing. The police found he had climbed out a bedroom window onto an adjoining roof, where he was attempting to hide. Lt. Walker and Patrolman Fowler removed Rice from the roof and took him to headquarters.

Hearings Reset Again

WEIRTON — Hearings have been postponed for the third time for three tavern operators facing charges of illegal possession of alcoholic liquors. George Reveaut, Raymond Lemsky and Ann Myers were scheduled for hearings today but Judge Norman Ferrari Jr. continued the cases until Monday at 9 a. m.

Bulk Station Safe Cracked

Burglars escaped with an undetermined amount of cash after forcing open a safe in the Mobil Co.'s bulk plant office just east of Midland early this morning.

Industry Police Chief Guy St. Esprit and Patrolman Marko Ratkovich, along with Pennsylvania State Police from the Rochester barracks, are investigating.

The burglars gained entrance through the garage and then cut a hole in the warehouse wall to gain entrance to the office, a spokesman said. They ripped off some of the boards and then sawed through some 2-by-4's.

Midland police were notified first of the burglary and referred the call to the township officers, who then asked for State Police assistance.

Structure Collapses

NEW YORK (AP)—A five-story brick tenement, in the midst of a demolition area, crumbled and collapsed with a roar Thursday night.
